ENTERPRISE CLAIMING CONSIDERATION.
A dealer in precious stones and jewellery is like a family practitioner. He is much more successful in his efforts if he knows his clients. Established in 1873 we can claim to have an intimate and thorough knowledge of our many clients throughout India, and with our large and ever-changing stock can supply any want.

WE HAVE A STAKE IN THE COUNTRY.
Unlike many Home firms, who through the exigencies of competition, have begun to flood the Indian market with circulars anent the ordering of goods direct from home, we have a stake in the country which by taxes we help to support and being on the spot we are able to ascertain that our customers have complete satisfaction in their selections. It stands to reason that we can show article after article until the right one is obtained, whereas, when ordering goods from Europe, one buys, more or less, a "pig in a poke."
Therefore

SUPPORT ENTERPRISE IN INDIA
and remember that for all kinds of Jewellery, Watches, Clocks Silverware, Electro Plate and Pianos, we have made a study of the wants of the public in India and can best satisfy individual needs at prices which will compare most favourably with Home prices.

That's what many of us often find ourselves and are so often unable to find the cause. We grow fagged out over the ordinary day's work, listless and lifeless without any reason devoid of energy or ambition nights are passed sleeplessly. The appetite grows poor, we have no desire for work or even pleasure. Then come troubles of the nerves, the head, the stomach, the liver, bowels, blood, in fact the system is undermined. This wrecking at the system is appalling—but we are all liable to it any time just the same. Blood and nerve diseases are silent and insidious, they come without warning and do deadly work almost unnoticed. At the very first sign of the smallest symptom of such troubles, use that KING OF ALL REMEDIES.

PROF. JAMES' ELECTRO-TONIC PEARLS.

In Neurasthenia and the impotence of old age, this remedy gives especially marked results. Energy is in all cases quickly restored.

These Pearls build up the delicate tissues, and bring back to manhood all broken down and weary constitutions. They renew vitality, replace weakness with strength, keen wits for dulled brains, and transform the dejected and desponding into healthy and cheerful men and women.

STANDARD BAROMETER READING.

The following information is published in order that vessels in the Bombay Harbour may by comparison with a standard instrument, ascertain the errors of their barometers:—

The reading of the Standard Barometer at the Colaba observatory corrected for index error and reduced to 80 deg. F. and to the level of the tide, at 8-45 a.m. Standard Time on the 31st July 1914 was 29·804 inches. For temperature corrections applicable to mercurial barometers of ships the reading of the ship's barometer has to be increased or decreased by 0.13 inch. for every 5 degrees according as the temperature of the attached thermometer is respectively below or above 80 deg. F. In case of the aneroid no temperature or correction is needed. But for comparison at 80 F. all aneroid reading should be increased by 138 inch. For correcting the ship's barometer either mercurial or aneriod for the height of the barometer cistern above the tide level in the steam at 8-45 a.m., Standard Time, the ship's barometer reading should be increased by 0.10 inch. for every 10 feet of the height to make it comparable with the observatory barometer reading given above.

CROP REPORT.

The following summary of the season and crop reports of the various districts of the Presidency for the week ending 28th July, is published in Thursday's "Bombay Government Gazette."

There was good and sufficient rain during the week throughout the Presidency. It was excessive in parts of Kaira, Broach, Surat, West Khandesh, Nasik and Belgaum, where a break is needed. More rain is still however needed in the eastern parts of the Poona, Sholapur and Satara districts and the Cutch State. Sowing was generally in porgress throughout the Presidency, except in Surat, Nasik and Belgaum, where it was retarded. Transplantation generally continues. Seedlings were thriving except for slight damage by floods in three talukas of Karachi and by excessive rain in Nasik and Belgaum. The supply of fodder was inadequate in Poona, Sholapur and Satara. Agricultural stock was generally in good condition, but was deficient in numbers in Ahmednagar and Poona. Supply of drinking water was generally adequate. Water for irrigation was inadequate in Poona, Sholapur and Satara. Prices of food-grains have alightly risen in the Karnatak and were generally steady elsewhere. The quantities purchasable per rupee in Sind and the various tracts in the Presidency proper were as follows:—

	Percentage below normal.
Sind	29 to 48
Gujarat	24 to 39
Konkan	21 to 41
Deccan	25 to 47
Karnatak	31 to 44

The numbers on gratuitous relief for the week ending 25th July were 2,494 in Sholapur, 988 in Satara and 246 in Bijapur.

Dr. Denison Ross, C. I. E., lately Officer-in-Charge of Records of the Government of India, has joined the staff of the British Museum as Keeper of the Stein collection of Central Asian Antiquities.

AUSTRIA'S ATTACK ON SERVIA,

though it is fraught with momentous consequences, may not disturb your peace of mind so much as the ravages of MALARIA in your own home. After the fall of heavy rains of Malaria-breeding mosquitoes will be going on apace, and the municipalities are busy taking active preventive measures. Hence,

THE MOBILIZATION OF LARGE ARMIES

A GREAT BATTLE IS IMMINENT

between Man and Malaria. We, therefore, strongly advise all men to keep by a bottle of the renowned SQUIBB'S AGUE SPECIFIC, the never-failing preventive and cure for malaria and all other fevers. It has always done its duty and saved

THOUSANDS OF LIVES AT STAKE.

It is sold all over India or at Madon Sons & Co., Crawford Market, Bombay.

See that you get "SQUIBB'S" and no other.

THE

(ANANG VILAS.)

THIS YAKUTI or life-giving nectar has been prepared from the best, choicest and richest vegetable drugs. It has a wonderful property of increasing the nerve power and is a specific for diseases. This valuable medicine is used in large quantities among Rajas, Maharajas and many of our esteemed customers. But we have ventured to give it publication simply with a view to place it before the general public owing to the demand of several friends. It is needless to expatiate upon the magical qualities of this our invaluable medicine. We would not like to blow the French horn as is the fashion of the day, but suffice it to say that the use of this medicine is recommended to those who have any faith in the efficacy of Ayurvedic and Unani medicines. We recommend it also to those persons who desire to tone up the nervous system, to strengthen the body, refresh the memory, and to guard against debility. It works like a charm and the effect is lasting. It restores strength, and it is enough to say that musk is not that which a perfumer admires, it is that which diffuses fragrance of its own accord. Price per tin containing 40 pills, Rupees ten only. Postage extra. No PARHEZ necessary.

GOVERNMENT PAPER.

The Paper Market presented a weak tone to-day but owing to the Settlement Day a limited amount of business was done as the operators were occupied in setteling their accounts. This being a very heavy settlement and in view of a very wide range of fluctuations some anxiety had prevailed with regard to its successful termination, but everything ended smoothly. In the morning business was done at Rs. 94/6 but suddenly the rates dropped and the settlement passed off at Rs. 93/14 The rate for the 31st August delivery stood at Rs. 93/6 at the close. Owing to the alarming news from the seat of war the Market is in a purturbed state and the business is greatly paralysed.

The entire aspect of the market has been changed during the past week owing to the grave political situation which has arisen in Europe. This has overshadowed other influences which in the ordinary course would have affected prices, and the market will now be swayed by hourly news of the political outlook. In such a position it is dangerous to operate, and it is also impossible to form any opinion as to the future of the market when all depends on any complications amongst the Great Powers which may ensue from day to day. Hopes are still entertained that war may be confined to Austria and Servia, and should this be the case a sharp reaction after the present decline may be looked for. Crop reports from America are less favourable, and drought continues in some sections, but such reports are overlooked in the present state of the market. War news is the governing factor of the position, and sharp fluctuations are likely to occur on hopeful or discouraging statements regarding the situation in Europe. The markets in America close with a heavy slump in prices owing to dread of a general European war. At the time of writing the outlook is full of menace.

The local market has also been affected by affairs in Europe and prices have given way sharply all round. Selling orders from up-country have so far been absorbed locally either by covering previous sales or as fresh business Exporters to Japan have been in the market from time to time for new crop. A moderate business has been done. The lowest point touched for good Broach up to yesterday was Rs. 268½, from which prices recovered about Rs. 4, only to decline again yesterday to Rs. 260. The market is very sensitive. To-day good Broach opened at Rs. 251, fine Bengal January at Rs. 199 and fine Khamgaon-Akola January at Rs. 215 Prices are quite nominal.

Ready cotton has also shared in the general slump in rates and the daily off-take has been poor. Exporters have bought quietly, and local mills have taken only for their actual requirements. Holders are anxious to part with stocks owing to good reports of the growing crop in India, but buyers are indifferent. Receipts have fallen off further and total only 9,645 bales for the week. Shipments continue on a fair scale.

Crop reports continue satisfactory but fine weather is now necessary for the best results. The plants are flourishing and healthy in high ground, but in low land, in some districts, they are not doing so well owing to continued cloudy weather and rain. Some resowing will be necessary in Broach. A break of a fortnight would now be beneficial everywhere as the plants need sun.

The following are the latest private cables to hand:—

Weld and Co.:—(Liverpool):—"Market eased on general selling on political situation. Later:—Market nervous and uncertain; continued long liquidation; continued short covering. Political situation dominates everything" (New York):—"Market declined on fear of general European war." (Crop):—"Miss Giles estimates condition on 25th July 78.6 per cent.; Journal of Commerce 77.6 per cent."

Gruning:—"Forecast of Bureau Report is 79 per cent. Our opinion is that it is best to be out of the market just now because the course of the market is too uncertain."

Mellor and Fenton:—"War serious. We recommend you to be short."

Hornby Hemelryk:—"New York dreads war spreading. Things look critical."

MANCHESTER COTTON PIECEGOODS AND YARN MARKET REPORT.

July 31.

The market this week has continued showing a steady demand. There has not been any clearance of great magnitude, but the facts that most of the styles have been inquired for and that there is some inquiry from consuming centres, upto now very quiet, lead us to expect a far better demand in the near future, times continuing to be as normal ah they are at present. European complications however portend their serious influences on uur side. The financial crisis, to face, and from whose disasterous effects, business has just begun to revive, might again handicap the favourable circumstances, that have commenced fostering trade. Cotton has experienced a big fall, still, in general, Manchester has not shown any decided deterioration in prices. No doubt, there are styles, where a vast reduction is quoted, but even with cotton advancing, this reduction would have been felt, as the entire absence of offers in such styles compel makers to cut the lines to its narrowest extent, to induce business. We must say, the surrounding circumstances all tend to a satisfactory ending of the present unvalued times. No outside events, howeves probable they appear to-day, will urge it the other way.

Decent demand has been felt in Greys. Both heavier and low cloths have been sold to a good extent at prices that have been remunerative. Some of the large European Houses have again been successful in placing a few lines in "Red end" low cloths in particular. In white goods, enquiry of a retail charactor is visible. Amritsar has purchased this week in small lines 36 inches by 20 yds. "Blue Heading" Mulls—of the value of Rs. 2-5-6, as also some fine mulls 48 and 54 inches, 20 yds., Blue and gold Heading at prices, which have left dealers with heavy losses. A couple of European Houses have been successful in selling this week fine superior mulls for January-February at prices lower than purchases made in February-March last. Delhi is pretty active in buying shirtings, and the style, no doubt shows very hopeful clearances. Fine white shirtings 36 inches by 40 yds. of the value of Rs. 10 and upwards are light in stock and hence holders are realizing good profit on same. Prints have experienced a slightly better inquiry, the same being not confined to standard styles, side lines having also met a fair retail demand. Prices from the other side continue to be firm, and though again a few lots have resulted in business, they are at no material reduction. Dyed goods have moved in retail but fair quantities. Local prices have been maintained, and in some cases a slight increase has been obtainable. Fancies yet show little improvement, and though retail sales in dorias, stripes and other fancies are possible, brocades of all sorts hardly find any retail purchasers. Dhooties, both grey and bleached are well sold. Prices in Manchester are firm, and this and the smart retail inquiry have allowed dealers to maintain their selling prices to their advantage.

Yarns:—The drop in prices have made purchasers very cautious, still offers at low prices have been in plenty. Small lots in single yarns, medios are reported, though no business of note in double or single yarns has actually resulted.

BOMBAY BACTERIOLOGICAL LABORATORY.

The following press note was issued yesterday:—

The Government of Bombay have just published an illustrated pamphlet entitled "The Past, Present and Future of the Bombay Bacteriological Laboratory." It describes the growth of the Plague Research Laboratory at Parel into the Provincial Bacteriological Laboratory, explains the many branches of its present activity, and indicates the directions in which its sphere of usefulness is likely soon to be extended. The pamphlet throughout is couched in language as untechnical as the subjects dealt with permit.

An important part of the Laboratory's present work is plague research. The pamphlet summarizes the latest expert knowledge of the disease itself and of the ways in which it may be combated, prevented and cured. The immense value of inoculation is proved by figures and facts, and a separate chapter is devoted to a detailed description of the manufacture of anti-plague vaccine, and the extraordinary precautions taken both to ensure that it leaves the Laboratory absolutely pure and to remove all chances of subsequent contamination.

The following chapter describes the other branches of the Laboratory's present work, and explains how its expert staff co-operates with the health officers of the municipality and with the hospitals, both of Bombay City and the mofussil. It also touches on the various branches of its research work on subjects other than plague, and on the educative functions which it already fulfils.

The pamphlet ends with a chapter dealing with the future of the Laboratory. The chief schemes mentioned are those for the establishment of a School of Tropical Medicine and of a Pasteur Institute in connection with the Laboratory.

The pamphlet is of a convenient size, is printed on art paper, and contains a number of illustrations. It can be obtained from the Government Book Depot, Bombay, or any of the authorized agents for the sale of Government publications at the price of 4 annas.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH OF A GERMAN.

EVIDENCE AT THE INQUEST.

(Associated Press.)

MADRAS, July 31.

At an inquest held on the body of a German named Max Wagner, or Dorssin, a native of Saxony the following facts were elicited:—

The deceased was identified by the Acting German Consul by a former name, but while at the General Hospital where he was employed in setting up an electric X-Rays installation he was known as Dorssin.

He was said to have been an expert in installing X-Rays and other electric medical apparatus. The deceased completed the installation on Tuesday and received Rs. 150 in currency notes, balance of the money due to him and left the hospital late in the evening to go to the General Post Office to send a wire to Calcutta where he was applying for a post as an electrician in the Tata Iron Works.

The deceased resided at Clarence Hotel and some times visited the Commercial Hotel where on Tuesday at midnight he engaged a rickshaw to take him to Egmore. On his way thither while on Moore's road, he told the man to turn back and while the rickshaw man was turning a jutka collided with the rickshaw and over-turned it.

The deceased fell out and was picked up unconscious. Police aid was sought by the rickshaw man and the deceased was removed to the General Hospital where he was admitted and died at 10 a.m., on Wednesday without recovering consciousness. The money which the deceased is said to have had on him is missing and the police are making strenuous enquiries. The post-mortem examination revealed a fracture of the skull to which death was due and a verdict of accidental death was brought in.

The Government of India have confirmed Dewan Gunga Singh, eldest brother of the last chief, as Maharaja Dhiraja of Charkhari.

The United Provinces Steam Boilers Act is now under the consideration of the Government of India.

MOTOR-CAR FATALITY.

COLLEGE STUDENT SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES.

Mr. H. P. T. Lattey, Acting Coroner, held an inquest at the G. T. Hospital on Friday, touching the death of Gulan Nagesh Pai, a student of the Elphinstone College, aged 18.

Jitandralal R. Kaji, also a student, deposed that on Thursday near Messrs. McAlpin and Company's shop, he saw the deceased, who, was walking a few paces ahead of him, being dragged by a motor-car coming from the direction of the Band Stand, but he did not see him knocked down. The car stopped after the deceased had been dragged about ten paces and two wheels had passed over him. The car stopped when a policeman shouted out. The passengers got down and went to where the deceased was lying. There was some rain at the time. When the deceased started from the College hostel he had an umbrella but witness did not see the umbrella when he was being dragged. Witness heard no horn at all and he thought the car which had its hood up was going somewhat fast.

Mir Mahomed Hemtubhai, a servant in the employ of H. H. the Nawab of Radhanpur, said he and four others got into the motor car at the Church Gate Station. He was sitting by the side of the driver. On the way he saw the deceased, with books, walking on the road, at right angles to the car and the deceased had an open umbrella. It was raining at the time and the curtains of the car were down. The car was going at an ordinary speed and the horn was blown when the deceased was seen. The deceased was about fifteen to twenty paces away when first seen. The deceased got in front of the car and then dodged. He was knocked down by the car. His umbrella was caught between the hood and the glass-screen. Witness could not say if the car passed over the deceased. After striking the deceased, the car went about ten to twelve paces and then stopped. They all got down and the deceased was put into the car and taken away.

Balu Yesu, Police Constable, 1940 A, said he saw the deceased going in the direction of the King's Statue with his books and an open unmbrella, which he was holding at an angle inclined to his left. Witness saw the motor car coming up the Mayo Road. It was raining at the time. The horn was not blown. The car was coming fast and was not on its proper side of the road. It was only four paces from the pavement. As soon as he saw the car the deceased started dodging, and, witness thought, he got confused. The front of the car struck the deceased and the car passed over him and went five or six paces beyond the deceased. The deceased was picked up in an unconscious state, placed in the car and removed to hospital. The deceased's umbrella was broken. The car was travelling at the usual speed for cars.

Dr. J. MacQueen, House Surgeon, G. T. Hospital, said that in his opinion the death of the deceased was due to concussion of the brain by hoemorrhage. No bone was fractured and there were no signs of wheels having passed over his body.

Munchershaw Edulji, the driver of the car, declined to make a statement.

The jury returned a verdict that the death of the deceased was due to compression of the brain caused by hoemorrhage owing to his having been knocked down by a motor car under such circumstances that the driver committed an offence under the Indian Penal Code.

Subsequently, at the Esplanade Police Court, before Mr. Frank Oliviera, Third Presidency Magistrate, Inspector Guider charged Munchershaw Edulji with culpable homicide not amounting to murder. Mr. Khurshed F. Nariman, pleader, defended the accused.

The case for the prosecution was that the car, coming from the Mayo Road, knocked the deceased down, and the deceased was removed to Hospital, where he died in an hour.

Inspector Guider asked for an adjournment in order to enable them to instruct the Public prosecutor to conduct the case.

The hearing was adjourned.

A LAWLESS DISTRICT.

Excluding the city and cantonment of Rawalpindi the whole of Rawalpindi, Tehsil, has in consequence of the increase of violent crime been declared to be in a disturbed state and an increase in the number of the police force has been ordered for a period of three years with effect from 1st June 1914.

Similar measures have been adopted in two zails of Gujarkhan Tehsil, of the Rawalpindi district. New police stations will be created at Golra and Banda in Rawalpindi Tehsil, and at Sayad in Gujarkhan Tehsil, Two police outposts will also be established in Rawalpindi, Tehsil.

In connection with these special police measures it may be mentioned that in the last four years, in the four police stations which comprise the Rawalpindi Tehsil, there have been recorded 83 murders 54 dacoities, 11 robberies and 647 burglaries. A certain number of police sowars will be attached to each police station and an experiment is being made with a new system of patrolling.

ANIMAL SACRIFICES STOPPED.

L. Kashmiri Lal Bansal, Assistant Secretary, Jain Dharma Parchani Sabha, Amba'a Cantonment writes:—The zemindars of Johi Kalan (Cawnpore) have given notice that after due deliberations and consultation with many Pandits and Raises they have decided that no animal sacrifices shall henceforth be offered in the temple of Shri Deviji or its neighbourhood as the time of the fair or on any other occasion. The killing of goats, etc., is a cruel form of worship. All the devotees of Devi (Goddess) are therefore informed that they would worship Shri Bhagwati with milk, dried or fresh fruits, cocoa nuts, sweatmeats, ganges water and similar other things and should not even think of impure things like blood and flesh. Jugdumba (Goddess) will bless those who will worship her with pure articles. The offering of animal sacrifices can never be be a virtuous act.

TRAINING OF SECONDARY TEACHERS.

ADDITIONAL BUDGET GRANT.

The following press note was issued last night:—For some time past the Governor in Council has been anxiously considering how the out-turn of trained teachers for secondary schools can best be increased. Hitherto the only source of supply has been the Secondary Training College at Bombay. The Director of Public Instruction has pointed out that when it was established, it was designed to train 34 men, 17 probationary teachers for Government schools, 5 teachers for aided schools and the Educational Departments of Native States, and 12 masters from Government schools in permanent employment. Out of the 34 places, 29 were thus reserved for the Educational Department, though it appears that, owing to the number of permanent masters in Government schools available for training being very small in comparison with the number of probationers waiting for training, as many as 27 probationers for Government schools were sent to the College in 1913 as against only 2 permanent employes of the Department. The Director remarks, however, that no account seems to have been taken of the fact that trained men are also required for the posts of Assistant Deputy Educational Inspectors and for appointments in the Vernacular Training Colleges and adds that if these requirements are taken into consideration, the Department is in need of more men than the number at present allotted to it.

It appears that without additional staff and buildings it is impossible to train more than the present number of pupils. Government have, however, sanctioned a scheme involving a non-recurring expenditure of, roughly, Rs. 50,000 and a recurring expenditure of Rs. 5,750 whereby it will eventually be possible to raise the number to 40. The scheme includes the establishment of two special practising classes, admission to which will be free in order to induce boys to join them, and the provision of a demonstration theatre teacher with a room to accommodate the educational library and museum at present located in the Elphinstone Middle School. Government fully realise that while the changes at the Bombay College will undoubtedly make for greater efficiency of training, they will not increase the output of trained teachers to the extent which the demand for such men indicates as necessary. They therefore deem it desirable to consider the feasibility of establishing two new secondary training colleges, one for the Presidency proper and the other for Sind, and have asked the Director to submit concrete proposals for their consideration.

ADDITIONAL GOVERNMENT GRANT.

It is obvious that, when the Bombay Training College is enlarged and the two new colleges are established, a much greater number of trained teachers will be available for employ in aided schools than at present. But quality is at least as important as quantity, and it is essential that good men should be attracted to the training colleges with a view to obtaining employment in aided schools. It is believed that at present the best type of men do not elect to adopt the honourable profession of teaching in non-Government institutions because its rewards are inadequate and because reasonable security of tenure is seldom guaranteed. Government greatly desire to see the employment of trained teachers in aided schools the rule rather than the exception, and are convinced that this can be obtained only by the general improvement of the conditions of service in such institutions. With this object in view the Government of India's recurring assignment of Rs. 60,000 for aided English-teachings and Anglo-vernacular schools, given with effect from 1912-13, has been wholly assigned to these schools in the form of supplementary grants not exceeding one-third of the ordinary results grants on the condition that two-thirds of these supplementary grants shall be spent on the improvement of teachers' salaries and the remainder on the special wants of the schools, and in the budget for 1914-15 an additional provision of Rs. 75,000 has been made for bringing up the grants to such schools to the one-third level on the condition that the position of the teachers is correspondingly improved. Moreover, the Director of Public Instruction has been asked to state whether it is desirable, in his opinion, to go yet further in the direction of granting financial assistance to these institutions, and the question of increased grants will be considered when his reply is before Government. It may also be stated that the question of establishing a provident fund for the teachers is under consideration. Should the scheme prove practicable, it would supply an additional incentive for good men to adopt the teaching profession as a life career.

COLLAPSE OF AN ABUTMENT AT HURDA.

TRANSHIPMENT OF PASSENGERS.

The heavy rains which have fallen upcountry have had the effect of disorganising the railway traffic at Hurda, necessitating the transhipment of passengers to Bombay on three of the mail trains.

It appears that shortly after midnight on Thursday a telegram was received by the G. I. P. Railway authorities in Bombay stating that owing to the heavy rain falling at Hurda, an abutment of a ten-foot bridge was sinking and that it would be necessary to transhipment passengers. Arrangement were accordingly made and without any serious inconvenience the passengers by the 6 Up Mail, which arrives in Bombay at 12-30 were transhipped into the 5 Down Mail, those by the 8 Up to the 7 Down, and those in the 12 Up into the 11 down.

It was hoped to establish through communication by yesterday evening, but it is possible that this will have not been effected till this morning.

SPORTING NEWS.

HARWOOD FOOTBALL LEAGUE.

G. I. P. BEAT MEDICALS 2-0

PLAY IN A SWAMP.

The G. I. P. Athletic yesterday beat the Grant Medical College by two goals without a response. The heavy rain had again reduced the ground to a swamp, and the spectators were treated again to an exhibition of mud-splashing.

Both teams were well represented, but a light team like the Medicals had little chance against their heavier opponents, and as a result they were completely outclassed, seldom looking like scorers, while it took all their time to keep the railwaymen from piling on the score.

Hayward scored first with an upish shot at close quarters and before the first half Ridley, who was playing centre-half, put his side ahead with a stiff shot from a corner, which Hildreth got his hands on to but found the rain-soaking too much for him. On the teams changing sides Hildreth gave up his charge to Hakim, going up forward. The sprint down the field looked as though it would be fruitful, but Dawson played the ball over the ber, conceding a corner. It was the only occasion in which the railway goal was in danger.

Hill, the new left wing of the railway, showed very good pace, and was the best man in the front line. On a dry ground he should give a good account of himself.

The entire Medical defence played very hard, but the handicap was too great. With a dry ground they are hardly a match for the railwaymen, but under yesterday's conditions they had not ghost of a chance.

The following were the teams:—

G. I. P. Athletic:—Dawson, goal; Eagle and Peel, backs; Borlase, Ridley and Muir, halves; Hill, Macdonald, Williams, Haywood and Jackson, forwards.

Grant Medicals:—Hildreth, goal; Wadia and Doyle, backs; Sheik, Sweeny and Wylde, halves; Baluch, Hakim, Thayer, Evans and Pearl, forwards.

Referee:—Mr. Harwood.

CRICKET IN BOMBAY.

TO-DAY'S IMPORTANT FIXTURE.

The several "maidans" were more or less under water yesterday and there does not appear any great prospect of cricket being possible to-day. But the Indian monsoon is one of the most uncertain things in the world and if no rain comes down this morning, play might be possible this afternoon, looking to the receptive capacity of the local pitches. A number of fixtures have been arranged for to-day, of which the most important is the one between the Bombay Gymkhana and the Hindu Gymkhana to be played on the latter's ground. Both sides are putting strong teams in the field. The following will do service for the Bombay Gymkhana:—(1) Messrs. G. C. Phillips, (2) H. L. Simms, (3) F. J. Clarke, (4) Bunbury, (5) Hurlbutt, (6) Baker, (7) Brachi, (8) Stoneham, (9) Rennick, (10) Powell, and (11) Tranchell.

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE.
Saturday, August 1, 1914.

THE RIP VAN WINKLE DEPARTMENT.

We discussed the other day the reply made by the Finance Member to the Indian Chamber on the subject of irrigation. We now come to the suggestion made by the Indian Chamber in reply to the difficulty pointed out by the Finance Minister in regard to the inability of the Public Works Department to spend more than a crore and a half to two crores of rupees on the large irrigation works which still remain to be finished and are yet to be constructed. As we gather from his reply, it is not a question of the Finance Department having to provide any larger sum than two crores in a year, but one of the difficulty of supervision and labour essential for the works to be greatly accelerated and finished in a sound workmanlike manner. In other words, the Public Works Department is unable to cope with these large works, so as to move faster, owing to the limited supervising staff and labour at its command. That the difficulty so described is felt may be readily conceded. But it may be reasonably inquired, whether the difficulty is of such a character as to be insurmountable? It was pointed out to Sir William Meyer that elsewhere in the civilised world works of a more colossal and complicated character, demanding the highest engineering talent, are entrusted to capitalist contractors of large resources and unique experience. These have been able to accomplish in good time work which is of high efficiency and durability. Are we to believe that in India a Government department with its limited public works, is alone able to accomplish such work? Scores of instances may be pointed out in Europe and America of the success that has attended works which have been entrusted to capitalist contractors of recognised ability and integrity, and financial reputation and resources. For instance, who built most of the large Continental railways? Is it necessary to recall that they were built by the Brasseys? How was the Suez Canal built? Who has built the Panama Canal? Who cut the Simplon Pass and built the tunnel, the largest ever undertaken? Who harnessed the waters of the Nile and who built the great Assouan dam in Egypt? Are we to be told that they were built by men of the calibre usually drafted into the Indian services by the Department of Imperial Public Works? The fact is that capitalist contractors of the reputation of the Brasseys and Airds are in a position, from their long experience of the labour markets of the world, to tap sources which, of course, are undreamt of in the narrow circle of the Public Works Department in India. They can scour the world and finish their contracts, however difficult, in contract time. Their rescources are not only large but of a nature to admit of considerable credit.

Do the Government of India and the Finance Minister lay the flattering unction to their soul that their Public Works Department is the admiration of the world and consists of the highest engineering talent available? As a class the personnel of the Public Works Department are no better than men of the same class elsewhere. But as the Civil Service is a close monopoly of vested interests so also is the Public Works Service in India. No one outside their own sphere can be allowed to undertake great engineering works and finish them in half the time that they take. It is surely idle on the part of the Government to urge the inability of the Public Works Department to spend more than two crores as a maximum on large irrigation works, the urgency and utility of which cannot be gainsaid. And we are not prepared to accept the official statement which tells us that it is difficult for the Public Works Department to cope with the work they are entrusted with in less time than they take at present. It is a matter of grave regret that the department of public works cannot be galvanised into life. A radical re-organisation, conceived in a broad spirit, is imperative. There is no dearth of intelligent and skilled supervision, if only the monopolitists would not rigidly bar the entrance of indigenous talent into their preserve. The Department not only needs to be re-organised in the manner suggested, but to be brought into line with the progressive engineering spirit of the rest of the civilised world. India alone in this respect seems to be a Sleepy Hollow. And so long as this antiquated Department is allowed to dawdle along, a century behind the times, we may despair of any improvement; and the Finance Department will continue to lay the policy of the tortoise at the door of this Department. Irrigation does not worry them as there are no clamant classes to pacify, as in the case of the railways. But seeing that the early completion of irrigation works brings larger and more satisfactory grist to the State mill, thus enriching the revenues, it should be the first duty of any Finance Minister, on whom so many demands for "productive" expenditure in the broadest and most liberal interpretation of the term are made, to cause the pace of irrigation works to be quickened by moving the Imperial Government itself.

We have had showered on us of late long resolutions on sanitation, co-operative credit societies, education and so on; might we not have yet another relating the progress which the large irrigation projects recommended and accepted by the Scott-Moncrieff Commission have made? We want a sober narrative of what has been done since 1904, what remains to be done, and what are the true causes of the delay. We do not want to be told again the oft-told tale of the so-called difficulties of skilled supervision and labour, which the public has long since discounted. It is time for the Government to give us something more than lip sympathy and wake up the Public Works Department. More than this, it must go beyond the Department and look for capitalists, contractors of repute, large resources and experience in the field of labour to finish off these projects without the assistance of the Rip van Winkles of the Public Works Department, rising superior to the departmental narrow-mindedness, which is at the bottom of all this extraordinary procrastination, and realising the full responsibility that lies on its head in this important branch of administration, so vitally concerned with the welfare of the vast mass of agriculturists.

Notes of the Day

An Undivided Nation.

Nothing could indicate more strongly the extreme gravity of the situation than the simple but weighty terms of the statement made by Mr. Asquith to the House of Commons. If any hopes had been built in any quarter of the Continent that the present was an opportune juncture for the Triple Alliance to crush the Dual Alliance, on the ground that Great Britain would be too pre-occupied with internal dissensions to intervene, they have been swiftly dispelled. Mr. Asquith's appeal for the presentation of the united front of an undivided nation has met with a response that reveals the highest sense of patriotism in every quarter. The Irish members, who have the most to lose by the interruption of the progress of the Home Rule Amending Bill, were as warm in their cheers, says Reuter, as the Conservatives, and the Labour members have taken the significant step of passing a vote of confidence in Sir Edward Grey. Thus Europe is assured that the British Government will be left free from every kind of domestic embarrassment to deal with "the risk of a catastrophe of which it is impossible to measure the dimensions and effects."

The Chances against the Triplice.

One would have liked to think that Mr. Asquith's statement, and the splendid support it received from all sides, would have some pacifying effect on the situation. There have been frequent hints from Ministers recently that civil dissensions in the United Kingdom were likely to be taken advantage of by certain Powers to achieve long cherished ambitions, in the hope that Great Britain would be too occupied with her own troubles to intervene; and it is difficult to resist the thought that Germany and Austria conceived that the moment would be an opportune one. Now that they have been disillusioned the natural conclusion would be that Germany, at least, would not be so anxious to proceed. On the seas the chances are overwhelmingly against her, if she has to meet the Triple Entente. With the fleets of Great Britain and France operating from one side and Russia from the other, Germany's sea-power would be threatened with complete destruction. Indeed, if we sum up the forces on either side, the outlook for the Triplice is not hopeful,—always calculating on the intervention of Great Britain. Mr. Asquith's weighty announcement that an undivided nation in the United Kingdom awaits the development of the crisis, should be the greatest factor for peace at the present moment.

Conflagration—or the Miracle?

Unfortunately Austria has taken the plunge, and matters seem to have gone too far to enable her to save either herself or her ally from Russia's retaliation. It seems almost incredible that she could have set out, with the knowledge and approval of Berlin, on her present adventure if she had believed in the ultimate possibility of Great Britain coming to the assistance of the Dual alliance. But the Triple Entente have now to face that as a probability, or Austria has to satisfy Russia as to the nature of her ultimate designs, and it will be difficult for her to do that. It is not surprising, therefore, that nearly every telegram that comes from Europe seems to indicate the deepening of the impression there that the great conflagration is inevitable. Hope of localising the war, says one telegram, is almost abandoned. The precautions which are being taken by the British Admiralty are those which only the imminent expectation of war could justify, and the closing of the Stock Exchange is a step which is deeply ominous. How many hours shall we have to wait before we learn that this threatened great conflagration has burst into flame, or that the miracle has happened?

A Provocative Act.

It is reported that Germany has asked Russia for an explanation of her mobilisation and demanded a reply as speedily as possible. If this is true it seems to be a highly provocative and gratuitous action, and is calculated to supply the spark that is required to produce a universal conflagration. Russia's reasons for mobilising are obvious to all, and very good reasons. Her interest in anything that threatens the integrity of any of the Slav States is natural and known to everyone, and no doubt she has already made her position clear to Austria. She is mobilising to be prepared for the eventuality of the Austrian attack on Servia necessitating her intervention to save Servian integrity, and, in view of such a very obvious fact, it would have been less dangerous for Germany to proceed with counter-preparations than to send provocative messages of this kind, which impugn the right of Russia to take precautions to support her announced policy against the danger threatened by another State. It is to be hoped that the German Note to Russia is not of the blunt and aggressive character indicated by Reuter's message.

British Precautions.

Germany might with equal right and reason demand to know from Great Britain the reason for the naval and military precautionary measures which are being taken in Great Britain, and, in fact, throughout the British Empire. The first fleet has sailed from Portland, after taking in war stores for several weeks, the bands playing and the crews cheering as though they were going straight to battle. Guns are being placed in position at all the naval and military stations to deal with air-craft. A precautionary stage of mobilisation has been ordered at Malta, where the whole Mediterranean Fleet is concentrated, and even in distant Bombay a sort of mobilisation has been carried out. All these are very natural and reasonable precautions, in view of the unparalleled situation, and a demand by Germany for an explanation and a speedy reply, if it were made, would be properly regarded as a gross impertinence and provocation. The Russian mobilisation is no less justifiable, and Germany, by asking in an aggressive manner for speedy explanations of a perfectly reasonable course, has not indicated a very patent desire for peace.

The Liberal Demand.

The Liberal press is being accused by one newspaper of the other side, of systematically suppressing or falsifying the news from Ulster. This cry has been taken up and repeated, in the gramophone fashion now so familiar. There may be a certain amount of justification for it. At all events the majority of the Liberal papers have for months past given a certain tone to their Ulster news and have allowed, or encouraged, their correspondents to describe events and movements in Ulster in a fashion that does not quite carry conviction. If, however, we admit this, it cannot be denied that the Northcliffe press has been anything but successful in giving actuality to the demonstrations of the Twelfth of July and succeeding days. And with it all there is no disputing the fact that what the rank and file of the Liberal forces in the country want to see is the Home Rule Bill put through and the Amending Bill dropped out. The average Liberal view is that the Government should do its own work and stick to it, and should not attempt to do the work of the Opposition,—work which it obviously cannot do. Many expressions of this opinion have lately been heard. Perhaps the most pointed is to be found in an article published from Mr. T. P. O'Connor from which we quote:

I do not know a single Liberal who is not incensed by the arrogance of the House of Lords and the threats of Sir Edward Carson. I do not know a single Liberal whose mandate to the Cabinet would not be to go straight on to meet this calculated and advertised intimidation with a stern resolution that the will of the democracy and of Parliament shall prevail. There is only one course, and I do not know again of any Liberal who does not think that a deflection by a hair's breadth from that course would be a betrayal of Ireland, a betrayal of democracy, the downfall of the Liberal Government in ignominy and shame, and the break-up of the Liberal party for perhaps a generation.

In conclusion Mr. O'Connor says:—

"If the Orange leaders will substitute for these immpossible demands other claims which are reasonable and fair to both sides, then they will be considered, for there is as passionate and honest a desire among Irish Nationalists to settle this question peacefully as there is in any other body of politicians to-day."

A New Colour Problem.

So far as we have seen, there has not been a single article in the English press discussing a telegram from the Paris correspondent of "The Times," and appearing in mail week, which surely contains a most significant piece of news. It is to the effect that the recruiting of labourers in Africa for the coal fields of Northern France and the vineyards of the South is to be systematically prosecuted. To all intents and purposes, as the world knows, the population of France is now stationary, and the industries as well as the countryside are suffering from shortage of labour. Immigration from Germany, Italy, and South-Eastern Europe has been growing during the past few years and there is every indication that the stream of labourers from Southern and South-Eastern Europe will further increase. At Lens there are even about 200 Chinese coolies at work in the mines. Here clearly is the beginning of an Asiatic problem in France, and if the policy of importing African labourers is continued the Republic will have on its hands a racial and colour problem similar in all essentials to that which confronts the United States. The present enterprise is mainly confined to the Kabyles from Algeria, who already number, it is believed, between 7,000 and 8,000. These are scattered over the industrial and wine-growing districts, while about 1,000 of them have found employment in Paris in the sugar refineries, tube railways, and omnibus services. When once the importation has been established nothing is easier than the multiplication year by year of the immigrants, who in the natural course of events should find ever increasing opportunities for employment at a decidedly higher scale of pay than anything open to them in Northern Africa.

The Weather in Bombay.

Friday commenced with a steady downpour which lasted till some time afternoon when the weather slightly cleared up There was again a drizzling rain in the afternoon and though in the early part of the evening there were signs of a clearance, another very heavy downpour set in at about seven o'clock and heavy rain fell till past midnight. Nearly 3 1/2 inches of rain was registered for the 24 hours up to 8 o'clock yesterday morning, making the total fall for the month 46.95. A Karachi telegram says that the whole of Sind has received a good rainfall but the continued rise of the Indus has caused breaches in canal and river bunds, resulting in heavy damage to crops. The railway line has also been breached in several places and the Northern Express of the B. B. & C. I., due in Bombay at 8 o'clock yesterday morning, did not reach here till 6 in the evening.

WORLD PREPARING FOR WAR.

BRITAIN'S PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES.

MEDITERRANEAN FLEET CONCENTRATED.

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED IN GERMANY.

AUSTRO-RUSSIAN CONVERSATIONS RESUMED.

HEAVY FIGHTING---AUSTRIANS CROSS THE DANUBE.

There is no relieving feature in the situation unless it is that direct conversations have been resumed between St. Petersburg and Vienna, a fact announced in one of the latest telegrams last night. But soon after came the ominous announcement that the Kaiser has proclaimed martial law in Germany. It seems, says Reuter, as if the whole world is on the move for military purposes.

The following is a summary of the telegrams received during yesterday.

Great Britain has taken all precautionary military and naval measures and nearly the whole of the Mediterranean fleet has been concentrated at Malta. The Admiralty has asked the Welsh coal-owners to retain their stocks as the whole output may be used for naval purposes.

Russia has been deeply impressed with British preparedness, which coupled with Japan's assurances, has made her determined to stand to her guns.

Germany has asked Russia for an explanation for the latter's mobilisation. The news of the Russian ukase calling up the reservists is described in official circles in Berlin as a challenge flung to Germany. Germany affirms that she positively desires to join any pacific step, but that the Russian mobilisation makes the situation more difficult. She continues to give good advice to Vienna and urges that Great Britain might do the same to France and St. Petersburg.

The Austrians have been bombarding Belgrade and have crossed the Danube at two points. Heavy fighting is reported at Semendria. During the bombardment of Belgrade, the magazine exploded. The custom house has been demolished by the Austrians. The Servians failed to destroy the bridge.

The London Stock Exchange has been closed.

There has been a flood of liquidation on the New York Stock Exchange. Coffee and cotton slumped ninety points.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

THE ATTACK ON BELGRADE.

DETAILS OF THE FIGHT.

LONDON, July 31.

Despatches of yesterday's date from Belgrade state that at eleven o'clock on the night of the 29th the Austrians began a second attack on Belgrade with a heavy cannonade from monitors in the river and guns on the Semlin positions the gunfire lasted until two in the morning and some buildings were damaged. The Servian guns seldom replied. An Austrian gunboat was severely damaged.

Attempts were made by the Austrians to cross the river but these were in every case repulsed by rifle and machine-gun fire. Fighting continued until four in the morning. There were no Servian losses. A renewal of the attack on the capital was expected to begin at noon yesterday.

The time of the despatch of the above telegram is supposed to have been anterior to that of the official message published in Vienna.

AUSTRIANS BOMBARDING THE CITY.

MAGAZINE EXPLODES.

CUSTOM HOUSE DEMOLISHED.

VIENNA, July 30.

It is officially announced that Belgrade is in flames. A despatch says that in consequence of the renewal of machine-gun fire from Belgrade the Austrian monitors replied, bombarding the city and the magazine exploded at one o'clock in the morning.

The Servians attempted at dawn to destroy the bridge but without success. The Austrian artillery demolished the customs house in reply to the shots from there. Simultaneously fires broke out at different points of the city.

RUSSO-GERMAN ATTITUDE.

WAS IT ULTIMATUM OR REQUEST?

LONDON, July 30.

It is reported in diplomatic circles that Germany has asked Russia for an explanation of her mobilisation and has requested a reply as speedily as possible.

LONDON, July 31.

Acute interest is attached to the attitude of Russia and Germany. Though it is officially denied that the latter sent an ultimatum to Russia, it was merely a matter of request for an explanation of the former's mobilisation. The news of the issue of an ukase calling out the reservists increased the strain in Berlin to the breaking point.

UKASE OFFICIALLY DESCRIBED AS A CHALLENGE.

The ukase was described officially in Berlin last evening as a challenge flung to Germany at a moment when the latter was doing her utmost to contrive a peaceful solution and must inevitably lead to counter-measures.

Germany affirms that she positively desires to join any pacific step but that the Russian mobilisation makes the situation more difficult. Germany continues to give good advice to Vienna and urges Great Britain and France to do likewise in St. Petersburgh.

At eleven o'clock to-night opinion was held in diplomatic circles that the situation was still grave despite powerful influences working for peace. News of fresh military movements is giving occasion for serious concern.

LAHORE, July 31.

A correspondent of the "Tribune" reports a most shocking tragedy which has occurred at Rahon, in Jullundur district, on the evening of the 28th instant when a magnificent old building where nearly a thousand women had gathered on account of a festival, partially collapsed burying about a hundred women.

The shock caused by the falling wall brought down another high wall opposite which also buried about 50 women.

The police and villagers went to the spot and rescued some. About forty women were found dead and about thirty more or less seriously wounded.

INFANT MORTALITY IN BURMA.

WOMEN'S MEMORIAL TO GOVERNMENT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

RANGOON, July 30.

A memorial has been addressed to the Lieutenant-Governor by the wife of Mr. H. M. S. Mathews, I. C. S., Commissioner, and several other European and Burmese ladies on the question of infantile mortality in Burma.

The memorialists draw attention to the very high death rate in 1912 when 1,07,967 deaths occurred in Burma out of 316,654 births and ask that the cadre of the Government Medical Department be amended by transferring 21 of the appointments of assistant surgeons (25 appointments being vacant on 1st April, 1914) to the grade of lady doctors. They say that such women of this province as are already qualified and suitable, be placed in these positions for employment in some of the 21 towns now without female medical aid and that the remaining vacancies be filled in the same way as speedily as possible; that separate wards for maternity cases be provided in all Government hospitals where such wards do not now exist and that all town authorities in large towns be urged to entertain visiting mid-wives.

LONDON LETTER.

THE ANNUAL "INVASION."

CLUBLAND AND ITS MYSTERIES.

GATHERINGS AT THE CAFE ROYAL.

BAR'S FAREWELL TO SIR EDWARD CLARKE.

The annual invasion of London, the mysteries of Clubland, the unique artistic gatherings nightly at the Cafe Royal, and the Bench and Bar farewell dinner to Sir Edward Clarke form the principal subjects of our Correspondent's letter.

(From our Correspondent.)

LONDON, July 17.

The annual invasion of London has taken place. From North and South America, the Colonies, the European countries and the Far East, the invaders have arrived; some singly, others in large organised parties. A stream of motor-brakes passes along the main streets and you can see them drawn up, sometimes a dozen at a time, outsides such famous sites as Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, or the Tower of London. The Teuton seems to predominate this year, a fact no doubt due to the prosperity of Germany and the enterprising spirit of her inhabitants. Indeed the Englishmen and women represent but a modest proportion of the visible population of Central London at the moment.

ROYALTY AND CLUBLAND.

Beyond a few dinner parties and other entertainments of a private nature, there has been little done by society during the past week, interest being chiefly in politics and the development of affairs in Ireland. Their Majesties gave a State Ball last night, otherwise the movements of the Court have not been of public importance. The Prince of Wales has been elected a member of that exclusive institution, the Bachelors' Club, the premises of which are at the corner of Hamilton Place and Piccadilly. Although so essentially English and aristocratic, the Bachelors' Club was, curiously enough, founded by an American gentleman, Mr. Goelet. It belies its name by counting a large number of married men among its members, though it is a fact that those putting up for election as members must be unmarried; should they subsequently desire to become Benedicts, they can only continue to remain members on payment of a substantial fine. The Bachelors' Club is no respecter of persons and quickly expelled the Duke of Orleans himself when that uncrowned King of France was credited with insulting behaviour to Queen Victoria by congratulating a Parisien caricaturist on a rather gross cartoon at the time of the Anglophobe wave in France that followed the famous Fashoda episode. However, shortly after King Edward came to the throne, that great peacemaker officially forgave the Duke and among the favours restored to H. R. H. was his membership of the Bachelors' Club.

Owing to the political nature of most of Clubland in London, the number of clubs to which the Royal Family can belong is naturally restricted. The late King Edward was a very "clubbable" man. Besides the Marlborough Club, immediately opposite the Marlborough House, he was a member of the United Service and other non-political clubs; as well as such institutions as the Royal Yacht Squadron and the Jockey Club. King George is of a different temperament to his father and, like many other ex-sailors, has a strong weakness for the domestic circle. The young Prince, however, has already showed a predilection for club life, his favourite house having been the Baths Club. There he may, when in town, be seen most mornings enjoying a swim and drinking his glass of port. Like his brother the late King, the Duke of Connaught is a man of the world by instinct and very fond of club life.

THE LATEST NIGHT CLUB.

It was to one of the gentlemen that I met at this gathering that I was indebted for an introduction to what is at present the only true Bohemian night club in London, run by artists of talent not for profit, but simply and honestly for mutual entertainment. Murray's and the Four Hundred are fashionable dancing restaurants; other clubs are neither respectable nor amusing; and the ill-fated Cabaret, which was an ideal Bohemian haunt in its early days degenerated towards the end. There is no attempt at upholstery or decoration at "The Crab Tree,"

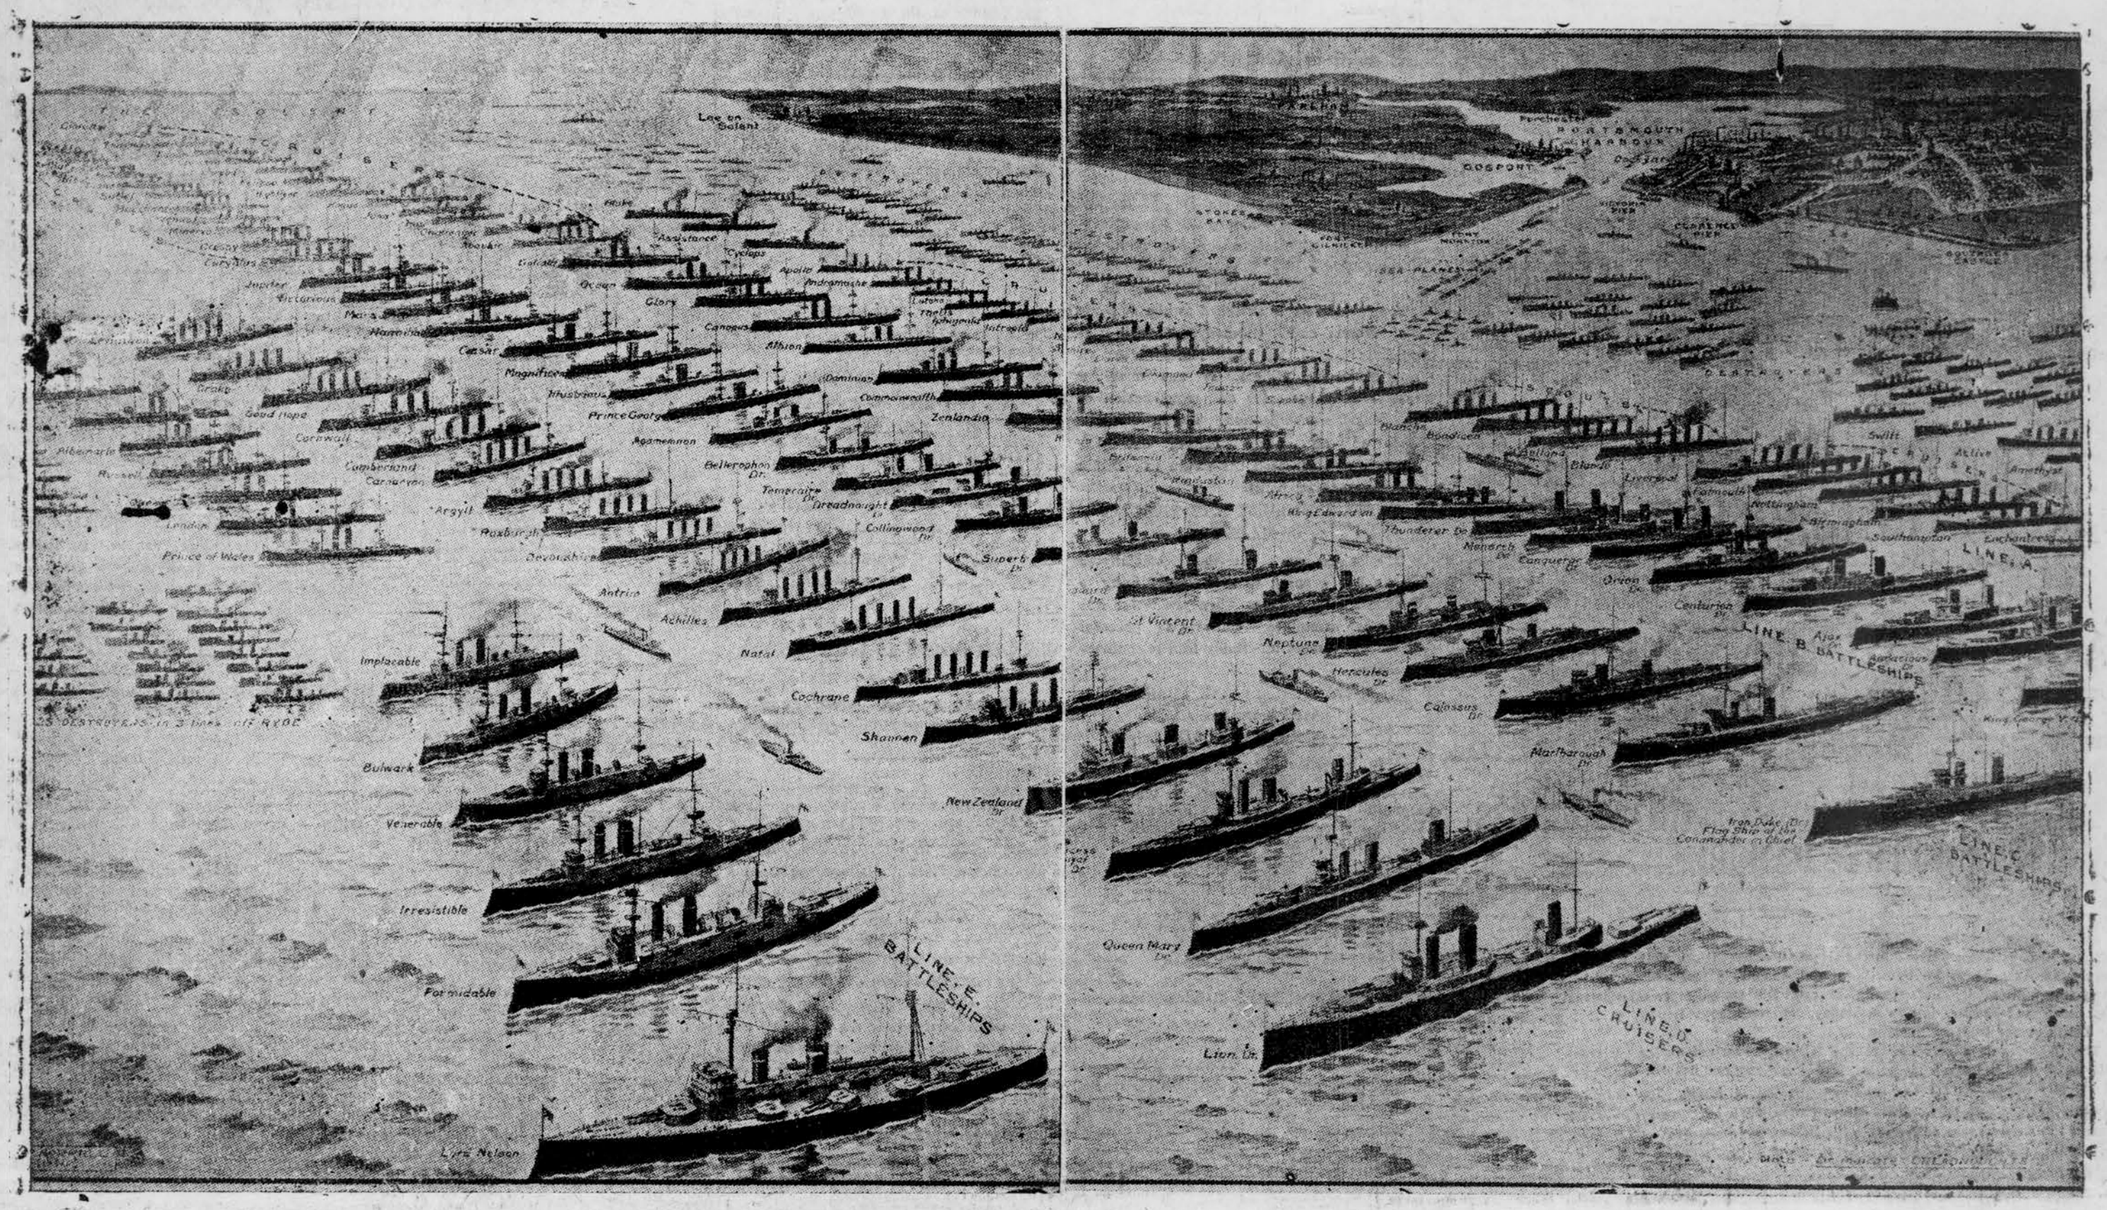
BRITAIN'S MIGHT AT SEA.



Reproduced from "The Graphic."

The greatest fleet which has ever been gathered together assembled at Spithead and was reviewed by King George on July 19th. The fleet was in 12 lines and included 24 Dreadnoughts, 35 pre-Dreadnought battleships, 18 armoured cruisers and over 100 other vessels this latest and best of clubs. The tables and chairs are plain deal and the orchestra consists of one cottage piano. But one or two large Chinese lanterns give a decorative effect which is enhanced as the first streaks of dawn are seen through the open windows; for dancing takes place in the top room. Pierrots and Futurist dresses are to be seen on most evenings and a wonderous collection of talent freely offers its best. There is no question of profit, but the artists are sincere and will even stop in the middle of a song to ask the opinion of the audience on some small question of intonation or expression. There is no place for the man or woman of fashion at the "Crab Tree" and it is quite certain the demi-monde would feel she had come to the wrong house.

ARTISTS AT THE CAFE ROYAL.

It is not always easy for the writer of a letter such as this to know what will interest your readers most or how much of the ordinary social gossip of London has already filtered to the East through other channels. I can remember, when that remarkable journalist Mr. T. P. O'Connor was founding a new evening paper, he read us a lecture on the importance of finding "ample material for the illumination of our press in the ordinary affairs of everyday life, rather than in creations of our imaginings." Excellent advice delivered with Disraeliandiction. "The ordinary affairs of everyday life" to anyone who understands the art of living in London may well be full of interest to those who dwell in less cosmopolitan cities. I look back to twelve hours and realise that between my dinner yesterday and the small hours of the morning I experienced amusements possible in but few cities. The dinner itself—in the grill room of the Cafe Royal—was eaten in rendezvous the like of which cannot be seen anywhere in the world. I have, in former letters, described the wonderful collection of literary artistic, and other talent that foregathers there. Like many another institution in London, the Cafe Royal owes its existence to an accident and has developed out of circumstanmes. The accident was the "Commune" and the downfall of Napoleon III., when the large number of refugees that fled to London found the then unpretentions cafe of Mr. Nicoll a suitable place in which to meet and discuss politics and other matters of moment. Common misfortunes brought together all sorts and conditions of men, and to this day the Cafe Royal is one of the few places of refreshment and rest that is no respecter of persons. The hard-up Bohemian may sit in the large cafe all the evening and order but a few pence; but he who chooses the room or dining hall will find that the finest cooking in London cannot be enjoyed for nothing, though the wines, which are famous for their excellence, are, to put it mildly, cheap. To eat one's dinner and to watch the different costumes, the interesting faces(and quaint conceits of distinguished persons, alone is worth a journey to London. Augustus Johns, for example, that world-famous genius of the brush, dresses with great affectation of Bohemian poverty, though everybody knows that his moneybags are full. There is one famous literateur who draws with pencil on the marble tables in the hope that he will be mistaken for an artist.

MR. MCCORMAC THE IRISH TENOR.

But I had little time to study these people last night for I had been bidden to the handsome home of Mr. Edgar Cohen, a wealthy gentleman whose hospitality is proverbial and who, with his wife and daughters, has his full share of that genius for sociability inherent in their race. There seated at the piano was Mr. John Mc Cormac, who has a finer tenor voice than Caruso himself. Perhaps he is not so great an operatic artist as the Sicilian, but he is an Irishman who has never been surpassed as a singer of lyrics and they were Irish lyrics with which he delighted us. They are simple as children in many ways, these great songsters; Mr. McCormac was quite hurt because I thought his beautiful motor-car belonged to Mr. Lewis Waller, the well-known actor. Other distinguished artists are to be met at Mr. Cohen's house, such as it would be difficult to gather together in a less popular household.

SIR EDWARD CLARKE'S RETIREMENT.

To-night will take place the farewell dinner by the Bench and Bar of England to Sir Edward Clarke, one of the most polished advocates that ever argued in the courts of England, and a man whose strength of character and undoubted honesty may have robbed him of the high honours as fell to such lawyers as the first Earl of Rosslyn and some others; at the moment Sir Edward Clarke is the most respected lawyer in the Kingdom. It would surprise many of your readers could they see this famous pleader. Most men of intellectual force and character have some distinction of personality and there is no question that, with his strong and extraordinarily intellectual head, Sir Edward is a man to be noted; especially when he lifts his heavy brows and searches you with his piercing eyes. But imagine a little man below middle height, with square high shoulders, features decidedly homely and a pair of whiskers that are essentially English and would do credit to a village barber! The dress is immaculate in its ways, but always of the same pattern; on most occasions he wears a grey frock coat with a red tie drawn through a gold ring and a tall silk hat. It must be confessed that, but for the undoubted mentality of the man, there is some excuse for the lady who thought he had called for the water rate. And yet, but for his extremely delicate sense of humour, his straightforwardness and independence of character, this man would have been Lord Chancellor, and I am not sure that with a stroke of luck the premiership would not have been within his grasp. He has not the thunderous magnificence of Gladstone, or the rapier-like incisiveness of Chamberlain, but he could be more convincing than either and is the only debater I have heard actually turn votes in the House of Commons. He is a man of wide reading, various interests and artistic culture. He can speak French and German fluently while he speaks the purest English of any living lawyer. Like Mr. Chamberlain, he is a cockney, his father having been a small working jeweller in East Cheap. He is entirely self-made and though rather fond of money has sacrificed much of his hard-earned fortune through his great sense of honour.

IN THE LAW COURTS.

The law courts have treated us to some sensation during the past week. We have had the case of ex-Inspector Syme and his accusation against Sir Edward Henry, Chief Commissioner of Police, and against Scotland Yard in general. I saw something of the trial and must say that the judge behaved extremely generously to the ex-policeman who made statements and asked questions that I have never known to be allowed in any previous case. On the other hand, it is a question how far people like Syme are responsible persons, the "bee in the bonnet" is so essentially predominant. The other sensational case is still being tried. Mr. Hissey, a barrister, is suing for divorce from his wife, an actress. The feature of the trial is the appearance of Mr. George Robey, the famous music-hall comedian, and Mr. Albert Whelan, almost equally celebrated, as co-respondents.

THE LATE LORD ELLESMERE.

Early in the week a very wealthy nobleman well-known in society, especially on the turf, passed away. This was Francis Charles Granville Egerton, 3rd Earl of Ellesmere. Had the late peer been famous for nothing else, he was known to all Londoners as the owner of Bridgewater House, one of the finest town residences in Europe and far more picturesque than Stafford House, which it nearly adjoins. It is strange to these two palaces should be so near one to another, for Lord Ellesmere was not really an Egerton but a Sutherland-Leaveson-Gower, while Stafford House was until a few months ago the London residence of the Dukes of Sutherland. The present Earl's grandfather was a Leveson-Gower and a statesman of some distinction. He assumed the name of Egerton on succeeding to the estates of the Duke of Bridgewater whose family name it was. Lord Ellesmere was extremely genial and considerate; though probably his wife has even a greater reputation for kindness of heart. She is a sister of the present Marquis of Normandy and no doubt her consideration for those less generously endowed with this world's goods is due to the fact that she had known the pinch of inadequate means, if not actual poverty, in her father's home. I remember an ex-colonial official who had been aid-de-camp to Lady Ellesmere's father, when that nobleman was an Australian Governor, telling me a considerate story of her typical kindness. My friend was staying with Lord and Lady Ellesmere in the country. He was in great money trouble, a fact known to some of the other visitors who, in no charitable spirit, commented on the fact before the hostess. On returning to his room the impecunious young visitor found a letter with a very substantial cheque covered by a letter expressed with so much delicacy and tact that the proudest nature would have felt at ease, and I am not sure that my friend was supersensitive in such matters.

DELHI CONSPIRACY CASE.

ACCUSED'S STATEMENTS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

DELHI, July 30.

In the Conspiracy Case yesterday the accused filed written statements denying the membership of any criminal conspiracy and challenging Dinanath's evidence and all statements, that they discussed murders or circulated the "Liberty' pamphlets.

Amirchand stated that the document advocating a general massacre of Europeans, was written in the moment of anger at the refusal of the Chief Commissioner, Delhi, to consider the removal of police surveillance over him. He intended to send the article to a magazine. When his feelings cooled he decided to eliminate objectionable passages, but he could not find the manuscript. Everybody in Delhi would know that the article did not represent his real opinion, as he was a man of strong humanitarian views.

Balraj stated that his correspondence with Balmokand concerned the latter's marriage which he opposed, since Balmokand had consumption. It was written in exaggerated highflown language. The words "the next step will bring you to gallows" referred to a Punjab saying that marriage is as good as hanging.

Hanwant Shahai stated that he was a distant relative of Hardayal but never heard him preach anarchism or write sedition. The accused believed that the British Government was a source of beneficence to India.

The Court will examine the accused on Friday.

DELHI, July 31.

When the conspiracy case was resumed to-day the accused were questioned by the Court. Basant Kumar Biswas said he had no quarrel with Dina Nath. His employers at the dispensary had threatened them with arrest, on this account, and that was why they gave evidence against him.

Abad Behari could not account for his name being mentioned in Dina Nath's statement. Amir Chand admitted buying a Smith Premier typewriter for business purposes.

Balmokand acknowledged there was a typewriter in the room where he taught the Jodhpur Princes. Balraj corroborated this. Dina Nath's connection with the "Gurukul" was the cause of dissension between them. The "Gurukul" paper in Lahore was antagonistic to Balraj's father.

Hanwant Sahai said Fazlkarim gave evidence against him to save himself.

Ramlal denied all knowledge of Rash Behari; he had not met Vishnu Dutt and had not heard of dacoities at Jaipur.

Defence witnesses were then called. Damodar Das, District Judge, Multan, knew that Hanwant Sahai had exhibited Badshah at a Mela.

A Hakim deposed that Balmokand was in Karyala eight days before the last Devali festival.

A Lahore printer deposed that the depressed classes pamphlets were printed in January last. Witness had been on the staffs of the "Panjabee" and the "Tribune," Lahore, and knew nothing about the application by Khusi Ram for employment. The court here rose for the day.

CALCUTTA MARKETS.

EXPORT TRADE AT STANDSTILL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, July 31.

The position here was easy yesterday, though the export trade is at a standstill. The exchange and other banks have very heavy cash balances which exert a steadying influence, while the stagnation of export will delay the movement of the jute crop, thus enabling the banks to conserve their liquid resources.

The Government paper slump originated from Bombay where "bear" operators had previously sold heavily for July 31.

MYSTERIOUS COLLAPSE OF A RACER.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, July 31.

The race horse Second-to-None after a morning gallop yesterday suddenly collapsed after being rubbed down.

Dr. Taylor expressed the view that the horse had in some unaccountable way broken his back and the animal was removed. It has not yet been shot.

It will be remembered that about this time last year an attempt was made to poison this horse.

Oselle, a four year old brown filly, recently imported from England, has died at Bangalore of "liver" and fever.

Mr. Keeling, Chief Engineer, Delhi, is convalescent and will not now proceed Home on leave.

The Committee of the Chamber of Commerce have decided that Thursday 30th July should be regarded as a non-weather working day for vessels in the Prince's Victoria and Alexandra Docks.

BRITISH INCOME TAX.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "CHRONICLE."

Sir,—British Income Tax is now 1s. 3d. in the £ which equals 6¼ per cent. upon the gross income, but there are large numbers of British taxpayers not residing in the United Kingdom who can obtain a very substantial reduction in the amount of Income Tax which they are legally liable to bear. This remark applies to persons who are entitled to claim either total Exemption or Abatement of tax deducted from dividends or rents from the United Kingdom on the ground that the claimant is or has been employed in the Service of the Crown or is employed in the service of any Missionary Society abroad, or any of the Native States under the Protectorate of the British Crown, or is resident abroad for reasons of health.

Claims can also be made in respect of tax deducted from interest or dividends payable in the United Kingdom on Foreign or Colonial Securities, Stock, etc., irrespective of the total income, but the latter class of claim must be made before October 5th in each year.—Yours, etc.,

FAMINE CONDITIONS IN MYSORE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

BANGALORE, July 30.

A Mysore Government notification issued to-day, realizes that, except in the hill districts of the State, the seasonal conditions are not altogether free from anxiety. Two lakhs have lately been granted for land improvement and takavi loans and arrangements have now been made with the Forest Department for the distribution of compressed hay at Government rates in the parts affected by the shortness of fodder, and funds are allotted for sinking wells in three districts. The Chief Engineers for public works and railways are to decide on the works to be ready for labour.

THE "MADRAS STANDARD".

MADRAS, July 30.

The name of the "Madras Standard" will appear for the last time to-morrow, and the paper on August 1, will be entitled "New India" which is incorporated the "Madras Standard."

It will be remembered the "Madras Standard" was recently purchased by Mrs. Annie Besant.

BOMBAY LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

FIFTH DAY'S SITTING.

TWO BILLS PASSED.

AMENDMENT OF BOMBAY PORT TRUST ACT.

STATUS OF PLEADERS.

MR. PARANJPYE'S RESOLUTION WITHDRAWN.

At yesterday's sitting of the Bombay Legislative Council, the two remaining Bills, the Land Revenue Code Amending Bill and the Bombay Port Trust Act Amending Bill, were first taken up and passed through all the stages.

This concluded the legislative business and the Council proceeded to the resolutions.

Mr. Belvi's resolution about Vatandar Kulkarnis was first taken up and after a discussion which lasted till 6-35 p.m. it was rejected.

Before the Council adjourned Mr. Paranjpye in reply to a question by the Governor, said he intended to withdraw his resolution on the status of pleaders, having been informed by Mr. Pattani that the Government had no power in the matter.

Mr. Patel also said he wished to postpone his resolution on the subject of a civil court for Bombay.

There are still seven resolutions to be disposed of.

(From our Special Correspondent.)

POONA, July 31.

The Bombay Legislative Council resumed its sitting this morning in the Council Hall, this being the fifth day of the Session.

There are still two Bills, the Land Revenue Code Amendment Bill and the Bombay Port Trust Amendment Bill and ten resolutions to be disposed of. His Excellency the Governor again presided

LAND REVENUE BILL.

SIR RICHARD LAMB'S SPEECH.

Sir Richard Lamb in moving the second reading of the Land Revenue Code Amendment Bill, said the Bill had been considered by a Select Committee and had been modified in such a way as to make provision for three different classes of landlord. The first class was those who paid full assessments, the second class was those who paid partial assessments and the third class those who paid no assessments at all. The Bill had also been modified in the direction of reducing the amount which the landlord should be required to suspend or remit to his tenant on his receiving his suspension or remission from the Government. The extent of the modifications which had been made, were described in the Report of the Select Committee, and it was not necessary for him to take up the time of the Council by referring to those modifications. The only dissent to the Report of the Select Committee has been made by Mr. Belvi who would doubtless express his views on the subject. He had only now to move the second reading.

HARDSHIP ON LANDLORDS.

The Thakur of Kerwada supported the Bill and said that as regarded the clause which laid down the maximum up to which a collector could order a landlord to suspend or remit he considered it his duty to place certain facts before the Council in order to enable the members to decide whether the maximum laid down in the Amending Bill was just and proper. The clause had been discussed in the Select Committee and he had pressed for a reduction of the maximum. He thought as the clause stood it would work a great hardship on a number of landlords. He asked the Council to remember that invariably landlords had no other source of income except the rent of the land. There were landlords and landlords. Some had large incomes and could afford to be liberal but a large number were petty landlards who were heavily in debt. It would be really very hard on them if they were obliged by legislation to suspend or remit the only revenue they had while they themselves were in debt and had to borrow money from sowcars at a very high rate of interest. He asked the Council to modify the clause in such a way that it might not rest heavily upon such landlords.

Mr. Parekh observed that so far as this measure was concerned it was not likely to do any substantial harm to Inamdars. The objections were merely of a sentimental and superficial character.

Mr. Upasami said it was quite true that landlords should allow some indulgence to tenants, but it should be voluntary not compulsory as it would be under this Bill. He was going on to deal with the details of the Bill when His Excellency intervened.

Sir Richard Lamb also rose on a point of order.

He was sure, he said, hon. members did not wish to further extend the sitting of the Council and as Mr. Upasani had a number of amendments on paper it was waste of time to go into details now.

Sir Richard Lamb a few moments later rose and said that as no one else wished to speak and he had heard nothing to which he need reply he now moved that the second reading be taken.

Several amendments were moved but they were not of a generally interesting nature and were directed to curtailing the amount of remission by landlords to tenants in cases where a remission of land revenue had been granted by the Government to landlords or at least to provide that the amount of such remission should not be fixed by an Act but should be left open to be decided by the Collector or other divisional officer after an enquiry into the circumstances.

DISCUSSION ABOUT DIVISION.

Some discussion arose on the voting on one of these amendments.

In the Bill there is a clause providing that whenever payment of the whole or any part of land revenue payable to the Government by a superior holder is suspended or remitted, the collector may suspend or remit the payment to such superior holder of rent or land revenue of such land by the inferior holder an amount which shall not exceed double the amount of the land revenue of which the payment by such superior holder has been suspended or remitted by the Government.

Mr. Upasani moved that the word "double" be ommitted from this clause and his Excellency putting the amendment said: The question is that the word "double" would stand as part of the Bill. Those in favour of this say "aye," against "no." I think the "ayes" have it.

Mr. Belvi said he was sure several hon. members voted and thought they were voting for the amendment and Mr. Bhurgri said that he had done so.

The resolution was put again in the same form and again his Excellency declared the "ayes" have it and then stated that the word would stand as a part of the Bill.

Mr. Belvi asked for a division.

Mr. Barrow:—Is the hon. member entitled to ask for a division when it is not his amendment?

His Excellency: The hon. member must understand that he must ask for a division before I declare the word part of the Bill.

Sir Richard Lamb moved that the Bill be read the third time and passed and this was agreed to.

BOMBAY PORT TRUST BILL.

MR. SHEPPARD'S SPEECH.

Mr. Sheppard introduced the first reading of the Bombay Port Trust Amending Bill. He said that it had been considered advisable to increase the number of the Port Trustees because the presence in the Board of a military officer intimately acquainted with the defences of the port and competent to explain the military requirements and other arrangements, was necessary in time of war. It would add greatly to the efficiency of war regulations for the entry of vessels into the port and harmony with which they were worked. Mr. Sheppard laid particular stress on the fact that the Bill was limited to two clauses which were extreme and simple. The first proposal was that an additional member should be added and that the additional member was to be a military member. The second proposal was a clause to take out of the existing Act a section which had become inoperative. This section referred to the sale of the property of the Port Trust, the proceeds of which when the Trust was first formed, were all devoted to the redemption of debt. In recent years, however, the practice of forming sinking funds had been instituted so that there was no need now to devote the proceeds of the sale of property to the redemption of debt. This Bill was so clear, simple and unobjectionable that he hoped they might be able to pass it into law that day. The reason for making any alteration in the constitution of the Port Trust had not arisen at the initiation of this Government. It was in consequence of a demand by the Government of India that military interest should be represented on the Port Trust. There was no doubt that it would be advantageous to have a military officer and the Government had to make necessary provision. That being so he hoped that they would allow the Bill to pass into law that day.

The only objection to that which he saw, was an amendment by Mr. Manmohandas Ramji. That amendment he hoped, they would be able to show, was an undesirable one.

TRUST CHAIRMAN'S SUPPORT.

Mr. Sprott supported the first reading and said that military and imperial interests required a representation of the military on the Board. The second clause was necessary because of the institution of sinking funds.

MR. RAMJI'S AMENDMENT.

Mr. Manmohandas Ramji then moved his amendment.

Mr. Ramji said that it was extremely incongruous and unjust, that the Indian Commercial community having such a big stake in the Port of Bombay and contributing to its income so largely, should have been left for such a length of time without a single representative to voice its opinions on the Board of the Port Trustees. At that time also there were three Indian members of the Board nominated by the Government; but there was always a vast difference between nomination and election. It was therefore, that the clause introduced in the Act of 1879 was welcomed by the Indian mercantile community as introducing the principle of election in the matter of its representation on the Board of the Trust. The clause was to the effect that two elective trustees should be elected by such body or bodies as Government shall from time to time select as best representing the interests of the Indian mercantile community. It did not go to the full length as asked for by the representatives of Indian commerce, but they welcomed even the partial way in which the demands of the Indian community were met. He now took an opportunity to request the Government to extend the principle then recognised and laid down and to grant to the Indian commercial community five elective seats on the Board of the Port Trust. There was a strong feeling in the Indian commercial community that a representative body like the Indian Merchants' Chamber be recognised for the purposes of electing all such five trustees. In his amendments however he had not taken up that extreme attitude and have urged that five elective trustees should be elected by such body or bodies as the Government might from time to time select as best representing the interests of the Indian mercantile community of Bombay.

Mr. Patel remarked that the Bill was not so extremely clear and unobjectionable as the mover observed and he thought a Bill of this magnitude, must be referred to a Select Committee. At present four bodies sent members to the Trust, two being sent by two of those bodies in alternate years and his friend said they could easily find a fifth body and he asked that these five bodies should send one member each year. Since 1909 they had had five Indian members representing Indian merchants on the Port Trust, three nominated and two elected and his friend asked that the three nominated should be changed into elected members. He reiterated that the Bill must be referred to a Select Committee.

Mr. Belvi said the ordinary procedure should be followed and the Bill referred to Select Committee.

MR. GRAHAM'S VIEWS.

Mr. Graham said he could not see that the present amendment would add one iota to the efficiency of the Port Trust. The Port Trust was not a consultative but an administrative body, and therefore efficiency was a matter of paramount importance, not only on account of the complex nature of questions which came before them, but also on account of the public, who had shown their confidence in the Trust by their large investments in Port Trust stock. This confidence had been again proved this week by the success attending the crore and a quarter loan which had been taken up at a rate standing over par, notwithstanding the serious decline in Government and other public securities owing to the present tension of international politics in Europe. The Council should be very careful not to interfere with the Trust which was thoroughly representative and efficient. Indian commercial interests were fully, nay more than fully, represented on the Port Trust. It might be taken that European commercial interests were chiefly concerned with external trade, while Indian interests were concerned mostly with internal trade so that their interests where really co-operative. A low assessment recently showed that seventy per cent. of the trade handled at the docks was handled by European firms and he did not think the Indian commercial community had any grounds for greivance, for they had two elected representatives for their 30 per cent. of the trade, while the Chamber of Commerce, for their seventy per cent., had only three, because two of their five representatives were there to represent shipping intersts. It appeared to him there were good grounds for adhering to the present system, whereby Government nominated three Indian gentlemen to represent different communities—a Parsi, a Hindu and a Mahomedan. If this amendment was carried it would mean elimination of the Parsi and Mahomedan element on the Port Trust.

Mr. Parekh supported the amendment and said if it were carried it would make the Port Trust a more effective body. He also thought the Bill should go to a Select Committee.

Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy opposed the amendment on the principal ground that if it was carried it would have the effect of taking the Mahomedan and Parsi nomination away and giving it over to elective bodies, which were mostly composed of Hindus. At present the Indian Chamber of Commerce elected two trustees and the composition of that body at present was about 90, of which 10 were Parsis, 10 Mahomedans and the rest Hindus.

Mr. Manmohandas Ramji said they have never elected two trustees.

Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy added, that if election was to be given it should not at had to be adopted in cases where there least be given to these bodies. Nomination were minorities and he hoped the members of council would reject the amendment.

Mr. Ahmed posed the amendment on the same grounds as Sir Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy.

SIR FREDERICK SPROTT.

Sir Frederick Sprott observed that he agreed with Mr. Graham that the amendment, if carried, would result in the domination on the Port Trust of one section of the Indian community. He thought indeed that it would go somewhat further, and the result would be a large representation of one particular branch of trade. They had up to now had four Indian bodies sending representatives to the Port Trust, and of those four two bodies had always elected the same men. They had at present an extremely well balanced body in the Port Trust and as an addition to the present Trustees they were to have a military member. It was a body which worked harmoniously and in which no interests predominated.

SIR IBRAHIM RAHIMTULLA.

Sir Ibrahim Rahimtullah said as a member of this Council, who was responsible for the recognition of the principle of electing to the Port Trust, he might be permitted to offer a few remarks on this question. He was amused to hear Mr. Graham and the Chairman of the Port Trust bringing forward the arguments advanced on a privious occasion when he contended for election, namely that the Port Trust was a perfect body as then constituted, that it did perfectly sound work and that innovation in the way of the introduction of election would be disastrous. He was presumptuous enough to persist in his demand for the retention of the elective principle on the Port Trust, and Government after a great deal of discussion on the amendment of the Port Trust Act had admitted the right of representation by election of two members of the Trust. Those two elected members had been sitting on the board for the last four years. The apprehensions advanced on the previous occasion had been falsified and the Trust still remained well-balanced and perfect in spite of the introduction of two elected members. If the perfection of the Port Trust had been continued, if loans had continued to command the same confidence of the investing public which they did before it led to the conclusion that if elective representation on the Port Trust was further increased, no dire consequence need be apprehended. He submitted that the method of election by associations should be done away with, and Indian merchants, who contributed to the Port Trust revenues should vote for their representatives. The system of elections by association had its day in regard to the PortTrust and ought to be dropped. All the five seats should be thrown open to election by members of the Indian Mercantile community, who were contributing Port Trust revenues, on the principle of accumulated interests.

Mr. Millett opposed the amendment from the standpoint of the man in the street. The Port Trust was a very important and efficient body and it was important that they should not interfere in any way with that efficiency. Mr. McBain also opposed and referring to Mr. Parekh's remark, that if this amendment were carried it would make the Port Trust a more effective body, he said that there was not a more effective body on side of India than the Bombay Port Trust.

MR. SHEPPARD'S REPLY.

Mr. Sheppard said he must confess to a sense of disappointment at the arguments put forward in support of this amendment, as he had told them this bill was the result of a demand by the Government of India for a military representative on the Trust. On that, suddenly without any demand on the part of the public, Mr. Manmohandas produced an amendment, and wished to change three nominated members for three elected members. If such a proposal was to be brought forward, some effort should have been made to justify it. He had read Mr. Manmohandas' speech and there was nothing in it but a reference to Lord Morley and a theoretical dissertation on the advantages of election over nomination. They had heard how various interests were respresented on the Trust. There were three representatives of European commerce, two of Indian commerce, two of European shipping, two railways, three officials and three Indian nominees. It was as recently as 1910 that elected members were instituted, and he said that without any public demand for further elected representation and without any case for believing that the working was bad, or that all interests were not properly represented, it was premature and wrong to come and ask for further elected representation. A proposal like that would have to be considered seriously and in very great detail before it could be accepted.

HIS EXCELLENCY'S REMARKS.

Mr. Manmohandas Ramji having replied, his Excellency the Governor said the Government in the first instance seriously considered whether the amendment should be allowed and it was only after very carefully going into the question that they decided it should not be. He did feel very strongly that it was a pity Mr. Ramji had raised this discussion, which had been merely a discussion almost entirely as between election and nomination for the Port Trust, when the position of Government was merely to carry out instructions sent down from the Government of India. He said he deprecated the position taken by Mr. Ramji. He seemed to have taken advantage and made most of his opportunity, and as he was in order he (his Excellency) had to allow the amendment. He sincerely trusted that hon. members would throw the amendment out. His friend had been vesy severe an the Trustee. He said the Trustees' success was not due to the Trostees, but really to the management. Well, presumably the management must be done by the Trustees, so that after all, when Mr. Ramji thought about it he might come to the conclusion that there was some virtrue in the Trustees after all. Mr. Ramji's main point seemed to be that he disagreed with the nominated Indian members and in reply to an objection, he poured out assurances he was quite ready to secure the election of a Mahomedan and a Parsi Trustee. But that assurance was not in the amendment. Government believed that the composition of the board was absolutely fair; let him put it as he saw it. There appeared to be five officials, including two agents of railways, five trustees elected by the Chamber of Commerce, two of whom were elected by the shipping and three for commercial interests. On the other side they had five Indians, two elected by the Indian Chamber and three nominated by Government in order to secure that the various communities should be represented on the Trust. If Mr. Ramji was so anxious to secure this alteration he would be wiser to withdraw his amendment, so that he could secure representation for these other communities. He hoped the Council would show by their vote that they considered, in the light of all the facts, that the constitution of the Port Trust was a very fair one.

The amendment was withdrawn and the Bill was then read the first time; standing orders were then suspended in order that the second reading might be taken.

Sir Ibrahim Rahimtula said, in view of the discussion it appeared very desirable that this bill should be referred to a Select Committee consisting of Mr. Sheppard, Sir Frederick Sprott, Mr. Graham, Mr. Manmohandas Ramji, and himself.

Mr. Vishindas and Mr. Patel supported the motion; and Mr. Graham, Mr. Jardine, Mr. Ahmed, and Sir Jamsetji Jeejeebhoy opposed.

Sir Jamsetji said at the present moment they heard of war and rumours of war on all sides and he thought it was a very urgent matter that the Bill should be carried as soon as possible. It was quite likely that they should not be affected by this war but it was well that they should always be prepared.

Mr. Sheppard said there was seriously nothing contentious in the Bill and no reason why it should be referred to a committee.

Sir Ibrahim Rahimtullah briefly replied and his Excellency in putting the resolution said, to refer a bill like this to a Select Committee seemed to him a most unusual performance.

A vote was taken on the motion which was defeated by 30 votes to 14.

The Bill was then read the second and third times and passed.

This concluded the legislative business and the Council proceeded to the resolutions. His Excellency stated that they would take first the sixth resolution and then go to the first.

VATANDAR KULKARNIS.

MR. BELVI'S RESOLUTION.

Mr. Belvi then moved:—"This Council respectfully recommends to the Government that the ancient and hereditary right of service of Vatandar Kulkarnis (village accountants), should not be commuted, at any rate before an earnest and sustanied effort at improving their efficiency is made by providing them with suitable educational facilities, and by giving them adequate remuneration."

He stated that the office of village Kulkarni was a very ancient and hereditary one and these officials were to be found in 11,752 villages in ten districts of the Presidency. Their pay consisted partly of a grant of land and partly cash and a sum of Rs. 7,96,376 was paid to them annually as cash allowance. Their duties were to keep the general records and accounts of villages and they had been doing this even before the Moguls reigned in India. An effort was now being made to do away with them and replace them by stipendiary accountants. This ancient and hereditary office ought not to be abolished without at least giving them the opportunity of improving themselves.

Mr. Rodda supported the resolution.

Mr. Hatch said he had found many of the kulkarnis efficient but many were inefficient, and there were very many of them dishonest, although that perhaps was not so much their fault as the fault of the system.

Sir Pherozeshah Mehta here rose and moved the following amendment. "That the consideration of this resolution be postponed until the Government had placed before this Council the reports and resolutions in connection with this question."

Mr. Sathe spoke in support of the resolution.

Sir Richard Lamb said he was not prepared to place the reports and resolutions in reference to this matter before the Council at present as it was contrary to practice to publish official communications and reports. They could only inform the Council of the results.

"DUTCH AUCTION."

Mr. Curtis said a great number of these kulkarnis were absentees and absentees at great profit to themselves. He described sustem by which the office of Kulkarni was put up to "Dutch Auction" time and time again by the holders of the office or their relatives and said that the whole system as it at present stood, was based on fraud and forgery. They preferred to keep good men and for those they were not prepared to take the terms of commutation were extremely liberal. They proposed to give them one-third of their cash allowance as perpetuity and a great number of kulkarnis had accepted this. So far they had not compelled any one to commute their right of service but had only commuted in case of those who asked for it. The terms given by the Government were extremely liberal and in absolute conformity with law.

Mr. Nilkanth, Mr. Parekh, Mr. Kamat, Mr. Upasani Sir Ibrahim Rahimtullah (who said the announcement by Sir Richard Lamb meant that it would be futile to pass Sir Pherozeshah Mehta's amendment), and Mr. Ahmed all spoke on the resolution.

His Excellency here rose and said he wished to refer to amendment moved by Sir Pherozeshah Mehta. He thought it must be perfectly obvious to the Council that there were certain reports and resolutions which the Government could not lay on table and it must be at the discretion of the Government to say which they would or would not not publish. He should suggest that the mover should withdraw it because it was impossible for the Government to palce these reports on table.

Sir Pherozeshah Mehta said he would withdraw the amendment although he understood Mr. Curtis to say there was nothing in the report to prevent it being published and nothing to keep back from the Council.

Mr. Belvi replied and Sir Richard Lamb stated the Government case on the point. They were not he said, abolishing the office of kulkarni as one of the speakers had said, but were commuting their service by consent.

His Excellency said he took it there was no one there who had not the desire that the general efficiency of the administration should be improved. With that aim they had put forward a suggestion for the commutation of this system and getting rid of the hereditary system. The commutation they proposed was perfectly fair and liberal, and would tend to the general efficiency of government.

Mr. Belvi said a number of those who had consented to the commutation, had been intimidated into doing so and he had brought only one instance to support that assertion. When a member made serious charges like that he should establish his case in every possible way and to bring one instance only was not to do so. They wished to secure efficient and absolutely clean government. He was given to understand that this system did lead to undesirable methods and they wished to do away with that in every possible way. On votes being taken 12 voted for and 29 against the resolution which was declared lost.

Before the Council adjourned at 6.35 Mr. Paranjpye in reply to a question by the Governor, said he intended to withdraw his resolution on the status of pleaders, having been informed by Mr. Pattani that the Government had no power in the matter.

Mr. Patel also said he wished to postpone his resolution on the subject of a civil court for Bombay.

At the Madras High Court the other day, an interesting point of Law under the Religious Endowments Act came up for consideration in a regular appeal from the South Canara District. The question arose whether, when sanction was given under the Act to two people to bring a suit for the removal of a Trustee of a temple, one alone of the two could sue, without getting the sanction order amended. Mr. Justice Sankaran Nair and Mr. Justice Spencer, disagreeing with the decision of the Calcutta High Court in 34 Calcutta 587, held that a suit so brought was bad and could not be proceeded with.

THE WEATHER.

HEAVY RAIN IN BOMBAY AND UPCOUNTRY.

Yesterday was again extremely rainy and during the night it continued to pour with unabated vigour.

No less than three inches of rain was registered during the 24 hours ended 8 a.m. yesterday which makes the total thirteen inches below the fall for the same period in 1912, although the same number of inches below that of last year.

RAILWAY TRAINS DELAYED.

Heavy rains have fallen upcountry, which have greatly interfered with the railway traffic and trains to Bombay are arriving long after the scheduled time.

The Northern Express of the B. B. & C. I. Railway, which should have arrived in Bombay at 8 a.m. on Friday, reached here several hours late, owing to a washaway between Chowmala and Alot stations on the Kotah sections of the Nagda Muttra Railway The damaged portion of the line has been repaired.

Owing to the sinking of a bridge at mileage 417 between Itarsi and Bhusawal on the G. I. P. Railway, the Calcutta and Punjaub mails arrived in Bombay shortly after 9 p.m. yesterday, about eight hours later than the scheduled time. The passengers had to tranship and a single train brought the passengers of both trains to Bombay.

How She Compels Others To Obey Her Will.

100,000 Copies of Remarkable Book describing peculiar Psychic Powers to be distributed Post Free to readers of "The Calcutta "Indian Daily News."

"The wonderful power of Personal Influence, Magnetism, Fascination, Mind Control, call it what you will, can surely be acquired by everyone no matter how unattractive or unsuccessful," says Mr. Elmer Ellsworth Knowles, author of the new book entitled: "The Key to the Development of the Inner Forces." The book lays bare many astounding facts concerning the practices of the Eastern yogis, and describes a simple though effective system of controlling the thoughts and acts of others; how one may gain the love and friendship of those who might otherwise remain indifferent; how to quickly and accurately judge the character and disposition of an individual; how to cure the most obstinate diseases and habits without drugs or medicines; even the complex subject of projecting thoughts (telepathy) is explained. Miss Josephine Davis, the popular stage favourite, whose portrait appears herewith, declares that Prof. Knowles' book opens the door to success, health, and happiness to every mortal, no matter what his or her position in life. She believes that Prof. Knowles has discovered principles which, if universally adopted, will revolutionise the mental status of the human race.

The book, which is being distributed broadcast free of charge, is full of photographic reproductions showing how these unseen forces are being used all over the world, and how thousands upon thousands have developed powers which they little dreamed they possessed. The free distribution of the 100,000 copies is being conducted by a large London institution, and a copy will be sent post free to anyone interested. No money need be sent but those who wish to do so may enclose 2 annas (stamps of your own country) to cover postage, etc. All requests for the free book should be addresesd to: National Institute of Sciences, Free Distribution Dept.403.H. HIGH COURT

ORIGINAL SIDE.

SUIT FOR SETTING ASIDE A DECREE.

(Before Mr. Justice Macleod.)

BABAJI GOVIND AND OTHERS v. GANGABAI AND OTHERS.

This was a suit filed by the plaintiffs on behalf of themselves and other members of the Somwanshi Kshatriya community to which the parties belonged praying for having the decree passed in suit 698 of 1909 in favour of Gangabai, set aside. Suit No. 698 was brought by Gangabai as the sole heir of her deceased husband who was the equitable mortgagee by deposit of title deeds of certain caste-property. The husband of Gangabai, himself a member of the community, had advanced moneys to the caste for building a Dharamsala and in consideration of these advances, the title deeds were deposited with him. After his death certain members of the caste alleged that the deceased had given this Dharamsala as a gift to the community and disputed the widow's claim as a mortgagee. Gangabai, the widow, had to bring a suit to enforce her mortgage, this suit being suit No. 698 above mentioned.

Leave was given to nine members of the community representing themselves and other members of the community to defend this suit. But in pursuance of a resolution passed at a meeting of the caste only two of the nine were appointed by the caste to defend the suit.

On the 27th January, 1911, after the hearing had gone on for some time, the plaintiff and the two defendants as representing the community agreed to refer the matter to arbitration. The arbitrator made his award in favour of the plaintiff directing the defendants as representing the caste to pay a sum of Rs. 2,135 to the plaintiff and costs; and in default of such payment it directed the property mortgaged to be sold, the sale proceeds to be applied towards payment of the decretal amount. This decree the plaintiff now sued to set aside. The cost of the arbitration it was mentioned came to Rs. 4,300.

Mr. Setalvad and Mr. Kanga, appeared for the plaintiffs.

Mr. Taraporewala, Mr. Desai and Mr. Davar appeared for the defendants.

Mr. Taraporewala on behalf of the defendants, said that the caste in question was a very small one comprising of about 50 adult members. The nine members were sued as representatives of the caste and notice to that effect had been given in the papers. Out of the nine defendants seven did not appear to save unnecessary costs in pursuance of the caste's resolution at a meeting. But that made no difference and the Court was justified in proceeding against the other two. If all the nine had not appeared, there could be no doubt that the Court could have passed an exparte decree. Mr. Taraporewala then read and put in certain documents to show that these defendants were sued as representing the caste and that the caste had notice of the same.

Mr. Setalvad on behalf of the plaintiff urged that the leave to sue or defend a suit did not carry with it a power ipso facto to refer the suit to arbitration. What the defendants in suit No. 698 had done was in excess of their authority of which the caste as a corporate body had no notice, and by which it was not bound. Any proceeding which was for the purpose of defending the suit would only bind the caste.

His Lordship in dismissing the suit with costs, after stating the facts remarked that the decree was passed on 23rd January, 1911. On November 2nd 1913 plaintiff Gangabai obtained decree absolute for sale by the Commissioner. When the Commissoner put up the property for sale on 3rd June, 1914, some members of the caste filed this suit to prevent the same.

His Lordship said that it did not seem clear from the Rules that when a number of persons were sued on behalf of a body whether they should enter appearance in a body or seperately or whether where only one of the number filed an appearance the community was bound by his action; but although the procedure adopted by the first and fifth defendants in that suit was not as regular as it might have been the plaintiffs had notice that they had been authorised and had been appointed to defend the suit on their behalf. Therefore appearance by defendants one and five was sufficient to bind the community in all respects in absence of fraud or thing of that nature on the part of these defendants.

His Lordship held that these defendants had authority to consent to a reference to arbitration.

Supposing even if the community was not bound they had taken absolutely no steps to set the reference aside within reasonable time; and it was now not open to the caste after three years to disown all knowledge of the reference and the proceedings before the abritrator and his award. They should be taken to have acquiesced in it and Gangabai was therefore entitled to the full costs of the arbitration incurred by her since the date of the reference owing to their having acquiesced in the actions of the defendants one and two in this suit.

The suit was dismissed with costs and the interim injunction restraining the sale was dissolved.

DIRECTORS AT VARIANCE.

(Before Mr. Justice Macleod.)

BADROODIN ABDULLA COOR v. MUNSHI MAHOMAD MUCKBA AND OTHERS.

The plaintiff is one of the directors of the Jooma Masjid and the defendants are the other ten directors. Recently two immovable properties of the Masjid had been acquired by the Improvement Trust for Rs. 75,000/- and with a view to invest these monies in immovable property the Directors had received offers for the sale of immovable properties. Among the offers was one from Abdul Rheman Jitikar, a former director of the Masjid, for sale of his property situated at Nishanpada. The defendant trustees were in favour of purchasing that property at Rs. 46,000/- in spite of the plaintiff's opposition according to whose engineers Mr. Merwanjee Mistry and Mr. Chambers the property was not worth more than Rs. 30,000/- at the outside. According to Mr. Merwanjee's report the property consisted of one ground floor and one upper floor, the ground floor being partly used as shops and partly for dwelling purposes. It fetched a rent of Rs. 300/- a month. But according to Mr. Mistry Rs. 250/- would be quite fair and reasonable. There were vacancies off and on; the place was out of repair and would cost Rs. 3,000/- to put it in a repair. Mr. Merwanjee put the present value of the property at Rs. 28,080/- Mr. Chambers, whose report ran on the same lines, valued the property at Rs. 30,000/-

According to Mr. Bhedwar, the engineer of the defendants, the property was worth Rs. 45,000/-. The net annual rent according to Mr. Bhedwar was Rs. 2,838/-.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Masjid on 1st March 1914 it was resolved that the above property should be purchased for Rs. 46,000/-. The plaintiff stated that that sum was grossly extravagant and with a view to stop the purchase he took out an Originating Summons for the determination of the questions, whether the investment proposed was a proper investment and whether the defendants should be directed to abstain from purchasing the property at a price exceeding Rs. 28,000/-. The defendants were restrained in the meantime from completing the purchase.

The summons was brought on in Chambers on the 11th and 18th inst. and on the 18th Mr. Justice Macleod ordered it to be adjourned into Court under Rule 223. (High Court Rules).

Mr. Talyarkhan appeared for defendants 1 to 9.

Mr. Mulla appeared for the plaintiff.

Mr. Mirza appeared for the tenth denfendant.

A preliminary objection taken by Mr. Talyarkhan that the sanction of the Advocate General was necessary in a suit of this kind was overruled by his Lordship who remarked that such objection ought to have been taken at an earlier stage.

Mr. Chambers, Mr. Merwanjee and Mr. Bhedwar were then examined.

In dismising the summons and dissolving the interim injunction his Lordship remarked that no ground had been made out for the Court's interference. The reports of the plaintiff's engineers were unreliable as they proceeded on an absolutely wrong plan. The directors had acted perfectly bona-fide and had in no way violated their duty. As to costs after hearing arguments his Lordship said that the ordinary rule must be followed and as the plaintiff had lost he must pay the defendants' costs.

Attorneys for the plaintig: Messrs. Mirza Mirza and Mungaldas.

Attorneys for defendants one to nine: Messrs. Ardeshir Hormusjee and Dinshaw.

Attorneys for the tenth defendant: Messrs. Kanga and Sayani.

APPELLATE SIDE.

STEALING A PIECE OF FIREWOOD.

MAGISTRATE HAD ACTED IMPROPERLY.

(Before Justices Heaton and Shah.)

THE KING-EMPEROR v. KALAYA BAPU.

In this case the First Class Magistrate of Panvel, Colaba District, had convicted and sentenced one Kalaya Bapu to six months' rigorous imprisonment. Their Lordships on a perusal of the Criminal Returns of the district directed that the record and proceedings of the case should be sent up for perusal. Their Lordships had further ordered that the prisoner be released on bail.

The accused had been charged with attempting to steal a piece of firewood of the value of six annas. He was found guilty and sentenced by the Magistrate. The accused had two previous convictions.

Mr. Justice Shah observed that Their Lordships thought that the Magistrate had acted improperly in the case in putting questions to the accused even before the charge was framed relating to his previous conviction. That was irregular and had necessitated Their Lordships going through the record for the purpose of considering the propriety of the conviction. Their Lordships saw no reason to interfere with the conviction as it was supported by evidence. Having regard however to the nature of the offence Their Lordships thought that the sentence of imprisonment already suffered was sufficient. Their Lordships accordingly reduced the sentence to the term already served by the prisoner.

AN ILLEGAL CONVICTION.

(Before Justices Heaton and Shah.)

THE KING-EMPEROR v. BIGAL BODA.

This was a reference made to the High Court under section 438 of the Criminal Procidure code by Mr. Hudson, District Magistrate, Panch Mahals.

In this case Gulabhai Jivabhai Naik, Police Patel of Vagipur in the Godhra Taluka of the Panch Mahals District, was invested with powers under section 15 of the Village Police Act, which empowered him to take proceedings in the recovery of Government revenues. He summoned one Bigal Boda to appear before him. Bigal failed to appear at the appointed time but saw Gulabhai later in the day when a hot discussion is said to have ensued in course of which Bigal slapped the Police Patel Gulabhai. The Police Patel then charged Bigal with refusal to obey orders when called upon to do a public duty and fined him Rs. 5.

The District Magistrate in making the reference observed that the conviction and sentence was illegal. He was of opinion that according to principles of equity and common sense the Police Patel was naturally debarred from trying a case wherein he himself was prominently concerned as the complainant. It would have been better if he had sent the case to a Magistrate having jurisdiction.

Their Lordships agreeing with the District Magistrate set aside the conviction and sentence and directed that the fine, it paid, be refunded.

THE DEKKAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF ACT.

SUIT FOR REDEMPTION.

(Before The Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Beaman.)

GOPAL DHAVJI AND ANOTHER v. GANGARAM C. GHUMARE.

This was an appeal against the decision of Mr. P. S. Pathak, First Class Subordinate Judge of Ahmednagar, who reversed the decree of the Joint Subordinate Judge of Ahmednagar, and dismissed the suit.

This action was instituted by the plaintiff-appellants for redemption and for recovery of possession of certain lands, alleged to have been mortgaged by their father in 1873 for Rs. 999-12-0. The suit was brought under the Dekkhan Agriculturist's Relief Act and the plaintiffs averred that in their opinion the debt was more than satisfied from the usufruct as the mortgagee had been enjoying the profits since the date of the mortgage; that a conciliation agreement was said to have been entered into as between their father and the mortgagee in 1885 and a sale-deed purported to have been passed by their father to defendant's father-in-law Yeshvant in 1899; that the concilator's Kabulayat and the sale to Yeshvant were fraudulent in as much as their father was insane at the dates the above documents were executed that they got knowledge of the above transactions and of the alleged fraud in October 1908, that those transactions are the result of fraud practised upon their father by the defendant and his brother Shahu and were therefore void and illegal and that they had a right to redeem the alleged mortgage.

The defendant-respondent contended inter alia that no fraud was practised upon the plaintiff's father either by him or by his brother; that the plaintiffs had no right to bring the suit as the alleged mortgage was merged into decree and that the claim was barred by the law of limitation. Mr. Nadirshah, the Joint Sub-Judge held the contentions as to merger and limitation not established, and allowed redemption without any payment being ordered to be made for it by the plaintiffs.

The first class sub-ordinate Judge reversed the decree of the lower court observing that no suit for redemption of a mortgage which was redeemed to a decree or had merged into a decree could lie. That grave and gross fraud appeared to have been committed in the case by the defendant and his brother.

Their Lordships set aside the decree of the Lower Appellate court and remanded the suit to find whether the decree under section 44 of the Deccan Agriculturists' Relief Act and the agreement upon which it was based were obtained by fraud. The whole case then was to be decided on merits.

Mr. Vishnu K. Dhurandhar with Mr. P. B. Shingne appeared for the appellants.

Mr. H. C. Koyaji with Mr. Kelkar appeared for the respondent.

HONORARY MAGISTRATES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "CHRONICLE."

Sir,—It will be found that the Chief Presidency Magistrate has made an invidious distinction by mentioning specially the names of certain magistrates complimenting them for the zeal shown by them in discharging their duties. Those who know the routine of the work of the bench of the Honorary Magistrates need not be told how it entirely rests with the judicial clerks of the various courts to load more or less a certain number of magistrates with usual or extra work. If however proper care is taken to distribute the work, I am confident that a large number of magistrates will be forthcoming than the ten whose names figure with a special mention. I trust that, if the Chief Presidency Magistrate will look into this distribution of work, he will certainly find a much number of magistrates willing to do this kind of usual and extra work.—Yours etc.

GREAT BANKING ALLIANCE.

COUTTS AND CO. AND ROBARTS, LUBBOCK.

HISTORIC FIRMS.

An amalgamation of two historic private banking firms is announced in the following official statement:—

An amalgamation has been arranged between Messrs. Coutts and Co., and Messrs. Robarts, Lubbock, and Co., subject to confirmation by the stockholders of Messrs. Coutts and Co. The business will be carried on under the name of Coutts and Co., and the management will be continued in the same hands and in the same manner as hitherto.

They are both old-established private banks of the highest standing, indeed Coutts and Co., may be aptly described as the Aristocrat of Banks. The capital of Coutts and Co., is £600,000; it has a reserve fund of £400,000, and holds deposit and current accounts amounting to about eight and a half millians sterling. Among its partners, who number nearly twenty, are Lord Latymer, George John Marjoribanks, the Earl of Harrowby, Hugh Burdett Money-Coutts, Viscount Hambleden, the Marquis of Bute, and three members of the Dudley Ryder family.

The capital and reserve of Robarts, Lubbock, and Co., amount to half a million sterling, and it holds deposits and current accounts amounting to about three and three-quarter millions. Among its partners are several members of the Robarts family, Lord Avebury—the late Lord Avebury was Sir John Lubbock, of naturalist and Bank-holiday fame—and Frank Chaplin.

The business of Robarts, Lubbock, and Co., was established in 1772, but the firm assumed its present style in 1860, when the firm of Robarts, Curtis, and Co.—which contained a Lubbock—was amalgamated with the firm of Lubbock, Foster, and Co.

ROMANCE OF COUTTS'S.

It is in the history of Coutts and Co., however that most romance is to be found, mainly because of the remarkable personality of Thomas Coutts who died in 1882 after building up the bank with the aristocratic connections for which it has always been famous. The firm itself was founded in 1692 as a private bank in Scotland, and it as not till some years later that Coutts's became known here as the London branch of an Edinburgh bank. It was opened in the Strand as Campbell and Coutts and then became Coutts and Coutts.

The famous Thomas Coutts when he had become a wealthy London banker, and a weighty financial adviser even to the nation itself, married a maidservant; but of his three daughters one married Sir Francis Burdett, the great "reform M. P." for Westminster, another, became Countess of Guilford, and a third Marchioness of Bute.

Because Coutts's Bank advanced to Sir Thomas Burdett £100.000 partly for election expenses George III, withdrew his account from the bank, put his money into a Windsor bank—and lost it.

At the age of eighty the redoubtable Thomas Coutts married a second time, Harriet Mellon, the actress, and to her he left the whole of his fortune of £900,000. She became Duchess of St. Albans and returned all the money by will to the Coutts family—to the lady who became Baroness Burdett-Coutts, of philanthropic memory.

Ten years ago Coutts's left their quaint old original buildings in the Strand for new premises, which almost face the old site. Millions of money were carried in carts across the street one Saturday evening quite unnoticed. Describing the removal on the Monday, which was August Bank Holiday, a contemporary newspaper contained, by a strange coincidence, a paragraph in the next colum headed "St. Lubbock's Day."

RADIUM AND CANCER.

ABANDONMENT OF ITS USE BY GERMAN SPECIALISTS.

Some of the greatest surgeons in Germany have abandoned the use of radium for cancer treatment and are now confining themselves exclusively to X-rays, writes the Berlin Correspondent, of the "Daily Mail." Among them are Professor Bumm, director of the women's clinic of the University of Berlin, and Professor Bier, surgeon-general of the Army and head of the surgical faculty of Berlin University. Their reasons for renouncing their faith in radium are that the patients treated with apparent success have shortly afterwards revealed evidences of a return of the disease in other parts of the body.

The German specialists do not assert that the X-ray treatment is infallible. Positive success, on the contrary, is still remote. They are, however, satisfied that there is no longer any virtue in buying radium at exorbitant prices for cancer treatment.

PUNITIVE FOLICE AT SHIRSUPHAL,

It is notified in Thursday's "Bombay Government Gazette" that whereas it appears to H. E. the Governor in Council that the conduct of the inhabitant of the village of Shirsuphal in the Bhimthadi taluka of the Poona District renders it expedient to employ additional police in the said village for a period of one year, the Governor in Council is pleaded to direct the employment of one head constable and three constables at an annual cost of Rs. 832-5-0, which is to be borne by the inhabitants of the village concerned.

FRENCH ARTILLERY ICIENT.

MINISTERIAL ADMISSIONS.

GERMANY FORGING AHEAD.

The French War Minister, M. Messimy, made a series of disquieting admissions in the Senate in mail week with regard to the alleged deficiencies in the artillery and other technical services of the Army. The House was profoundly impressed by his statement, and the Army Committee has been instructed to report on the whole question of war material when Parliament reassembles in October.

After showing that since 1900 Germany had spent on her Army a total of £88,600,000, as compared with only £46,750,000 by France, M Messimy admitted that, while the French 75mm. q.f. gun was superior to the corresponding German weapon, Germany had a distinct superiority in heavy calibre guns. The number of guns was:—Germany, 3,370; and France, 2,504. By the end of 1917 France would have 3,020 pieces. Deficiencies in respect of guns and of ammunition were being remedied. By next year France hoped to increase to 35 her guns for use against dirigibles. In engineering materiel Germany was far ahead.

M. Clemenceau summed up the impression created by the debate by saying that the War Minister had confirmed all the charges which had been brought against Army organization and administration.

COMMITTEE TO REPORT.

The debate in the Senate on Army organization and administration was continued and concluded late to-night. The outcome of the discussion was that the Army Committee was instructed to submit a full report on war material on the reassembling of Parliament in October.

The Minister of War, in replying to the charges made by M. Humbert, admitted that all that might have been done had not been accomplished. From 1900 to 1905 Germany had spent £28,000,000 on her Army, as compared with £11,250,000 in France. From 1906 to 1910 Germany had expended £37,200,000, while France had spent £19,000,000. From 1911 to 1913 Germany had spent £23,400,000, France £16,500,000.

In artillery France had 2,504 guns; by the end of 1917 she will have 3,020. Germany has at present 3,370, and a distinct superiority in heavy calibre weapons. The 71 mm. gun of the French Army was superior to the corresponding weapon in Germany. Efforts were being made to increase the stock of shells. Experiments with heavy artillery were now in progress and would shortly lead to an improvement in this respect. Five guns for use against dirigibles would be available this year; next year they would number 35.

INADEQUATE MATERIAL.

Germany was far ahead of France in engineering material. The Minister admitted the truth of M. Humbert's statement with regard to the condition of the fortresses on the frontier. Lack of money had prevented the organisation of telegraphic communication between the forts. An effort was now being exerted to make up for lost time. Wireless telegraphy was also in a bad way. The German wireless station at Metz was much more powerful than the French frontier station. Some of the forts of the Upper Meuse did, as M. Humbert stated, date from 1878 and 1880. Up till three years ago no money had been obtainable for bridge-building supplies, but supplies of this nature would be forthcoming this year.

With regard to the boots of the Army, the men of the active Army would need to have a new pair and a pair already worn on the day of mobilization. The reserve stock of boots required renewal, and a definite type of new footgear would be adopted next October.

Frequently the demands of successive Ministers of War have been refused on the intervention of the Minister of Finance. In 1913, for instance, the Minister of War asked for a credit of £20,000,000. The Minister of Finance offered to let him have only £1,200,000.

From now on to 1919 the country would have to make a serious effort, but by that date considerable improvement would have been made in every direction. France would not have caught up her neighbours, but she would by then have done all that was humanly possible to repair the errors committed. The country, after having indulged in a dream of universal peace, had been awakened by the Agadir crisis. The credits which were now before the Chamber were a proof of the intention of France to protect her soil.

STRENGTH OF GERMAN NAVY.

THREE SQUADRONS IN COMMISSION.

INCREASE IN PERSONNEL.

The Berlin correspondent of "The Times," who, writing of the British Naval visit to Kiel, refers to the strength of the German Navy and observes that while the two Navies had pleasant occasion to improve their acquaintance and increase their respect for one another, there were no politics at Kiel. So absent were they that it was not considered inappropriate to announce in Berlin on June 28 that there is to be a still further increase of the striking force of the German Navy and of Germany's naval representation abroad. It is evidently believed that the situation at home, where Grand Admiral von Tirpitz has both the Treasury and the Reichstag "in his pocket," and the situation abroad, and especially in England, where Germany's efforts seem for the present to arouse less apprehension, are favourable to at any rate a slight acceleration of pace without fear of new complications.

German politicians have argued themselves into a very comfortable state of mind. On the one hand, there is general admiration of the brand new formula invented for the last Reichstag debate by Dr. Heckscher, a Radical Deputy and Director of the Hamburg-Amerika Line. "A detente between England and Germany has been possible only because Germany has provided herself with a strong Navy." On the other hand, if Mr. Churchill had accepted the German invitation to Kiel, he might have heard—no doubt in more polite terms—what the new volume of the semi-official Nauticus puts as follows:—

The Navy panic artificially created in England in the year 1909 was followed until quite recently by attempts to influence German naval policy. Arithmetical formulæ were invented. The "holiday year idea" was produced, Germany was branded as the promoter of larger armaments and increased displacements, reduction of the English programme of construction were suggested as possible—all this in order to obtain influence over the development of our naval armaments and to break down and destroy the Navy Law even at the eleventh hour, so that the Government in power would be freed from its financial anxieties and domestic difficulties and the English tax-payers be saved still heavier burdens. But in reply the German Press uttered quietly and decisively and almost unanimously its "Unacceptable," and the public opinion thus reflected refused absolutely to admit any public interference with the nation's right to decide for itself.

AMBITION FOILED.

Thus the wicked ambition of the British Government to stay expenditure has been foiled, and German politicians, blandly assuming that British opposition is finished, have provided themselves with a new theory capable perhaps before long of reading—"The larger the German Navy, the better Anglo-German relations will be."

About the most remarkable feature of German Navy Estimates, and the best index to the growth of Germany's actual strength at sea, is the rapid increase in expenditure on "keeping ships in commission." The amount has practically doubled in seven years. The total votes in 1908 amounted to £1,836,000, in 1909 to £2,149,000, in 1910 to £2,206,000, in 1911 to £2,362,000, in 1912 to £2,570,000, in 1913 to £2,905,000, and for the present financial year the figure is no less than £3,410,000.

THE THREE SQUADRON FLEET.

Germany will before the end of the present summer have, together with the Fleet flagships, three squadrons of about equal strength in commission—the first squadron at Wilhelmshaven, consisting of seven of the earliest Dreadnoughts the second squadron at Kiel, consisting of the Dreadnought Westfalen and either five or six older ships; and the third squadron, also at Kiel, consisting of seven quite new ships.

While the three-squadron Fleet is so nearly complete as to make its entire completion appear an urgent necessity, the reserve formations naturally wear a neglected aspect, especially as there are no reserve ships in commission at Wilhelmshaven. The most fruitful argument of all, however, for more personnel and more ships in commission is found in the need—espied at present especially in the Mediterranean and the Pacific—for better naval representation of Germany abroad without interference with the units at home. Some time will probably elapse before the real extent of the new spurt is made known.

As regards ships, the assurance that there is to be "no new Navy Bill" is made too authoritatively to be disbelieved. Its value is impaired by the fact that under the existing law Admiral von Tirpitz has a battleship and two cruisers in hand, to be laid down when he pleases. Upon the whole it may be said that Germany is now shifting the sphere of competition from ships to men. One consideration in the minds of the German naval authorities is probably that an increase of personnel may the more easily be secured before there is another increase of the peace strength of the German Army. On the other hand, it is undoubtedly believed, notwithstanding all assurances to the contrary, that England's difficulties in supply of men are considerable and will become more serious.

The death is reported of Mr. George Ines, one of the small surviving band of Indian Mutiny heroes. His death, which occurred on July 5th, was the result of an accident while walking along the breastwall at St. Catherine's, Inveraray. Somehow he slipped and fell from the parapet on to the seashore beneath with fatal consequences.

PNEUMOSAN.

(Amylthiotrimethylamine)

Has stood the test of time and is now extensively used in Great Britain and her Colonies in all types of tuberculosis. It gives far better results than any other treatment specially in Pulmonary and Glandular Tuberculosis, Tuberculous Joints, Tuberculous Peritonitis and Enteritis, Lupus Vulgaris and mixed infections. Not seldom acute cases too respond to its action. It may be employed with perfect safety since it does not cause any irritation locally or constitutionally.

(Vide "The Lancet," March 30th 1912, page 897, and leading articles of the 'Medical Times,"30th 1911 page 781, et seq.)

Dr. John Penn Milton, late Medical Partner to Dr. Otto Walther of Nordrach, Black Forest, Germany, and the Medical Superintendent of the Devon and Cornwall Sanatorium for Consumptives, has favoured with the following observations:

"Some hundreds of cases have been treated so far. The instructive and interesting point about them is the short time that they were under Treatment and that they were able to return to their various business on leaving the Sanitorium. I am getting better results since using PNEUMOSAN than ever before. I would point out that cases in the first and second stages respond best to PNEUMOSAN although I have had good results in more advanced cases, but these results are not to general or so certain. One is Morally bound to take Notice of a preparation like PNEUMOSAN when the Patients all ask for it because they say they feel so much better from its administration and when sees the Improvement in appetite, Temperature, couch and general well being in nearly every case."

PNEUMOSAN is issued in bottles containing 20 to 30 Injections. PRICE Rs. 13-0 PER BOTTLE.

PNEUMOSAN can be obtained from all the leading Chemists throughout India, Burma and Ceylon or direct from:
